FATHER LAYS DEATHS OF 2 TO KLAN DOOR

Many Arrests Are Expected This Week As Testimony Is Given In Hearing

By Associated Press
BASTON, La.—With a lapse of a day in the open court hearing in observance of a state holiday, Attorney General Cocco and his corps of assistants, directing the state's investigation in the kidnapping and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Fletcher Richards and other masked band repudiations in Morehouse Parish turned their attention Monday to a digest of evidence intended to establish by scientific deduction any physical exhibits, that the two men were subjected to extreme cruelties before they were put to death.

Meanwhile federal and state investigators continued the assembling of evidence on which it is expected a score or more of men will ultimately be placed on trial of members of hooded band alleged to have been responsible for the kidnapping and slaying.

VISIT LAKE
A visit Sunday to Lake LaFourche by pathologists who examined the bodies of the men accompanied by a representative of the attorney general and department of justice agents gave rise to reports that efforts would be made to drag the lake in which the bodies were found floating two weeks ago, or missing parts of the bodies but it was stated Monday that the trip to the lake was to obtain measurements and make observations as to the effect on the shore of a dynamite explosion set off by unidentified persons shortly before the headless and mangled bodies were discovered.

Testimony implicating others as members of hooded bands who have operated in this parish was expected to be developed during the next few days. The names of three prominent Morehouse citizens have already been mentioned as participating in a mob action the early part of August when Watt Daniels was accosted but unnamed.

FATHER NAMES MEN
J. L. Daniel testified Saturday that his son told him he recognized from beneath the hooded K. K. Klips with, excited children of the Morehouse, Ku Klux Klan; Dr. E. M. McKel, former mayor of Mer Rouge and Laurie Calhoun, a Morehouse deputy sheriff.

However, the identity of members of the Aug. 24 hooded band said to have been responsible for the kidnapping and murder of Daniel and Richards, has not been revealed in testimony so far.

The elder Daniel and A. C. Andrews, both of whom were whipped by that mob, declared they could not recognize any of their assailants. Andrews said he has been asked many times since the incident as to whom he suspected. When asked by an attorney Saturday whether any whom he had under suspicion questioned him, he replied they had. He said he believes Klansmen made up the mob.

Is Treasurer, But Can't Open County Safe

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, new county treasurer, who went into office on Jan. 1, has not yet had access to the treasurer's safe since Louis A. Peterson, her predecessor, has refused to surrender possession of the records until his accounts have been audited.

The auditors, Riley, Penner and Benton of Milwaukee, who were again given the contract by the county finance committee to audit the county books this year are to conduct the monthly audit.

Communists Observe Yule With Mockery

By Associated Press
Moscow.—The young Communists, observing the Christmas of the Julian calendar Sunday launched their widely heralded "attack upon heaven" in a grotesque carnival procession that was a mockery of the world's great religions.

As American college boys make merry after a football victory so thousands of Russian students did a gaudy snake dance around a great bonfire, the kindling of which before one of the principal railway stations brought the day of revelry to a close.

The climax of the celebration came, however, when the young people gleefully tossed into the flames straw and paper figures representing the deities of the Christian, Mohammedan, Jewish and Buddhist religions.

CARTOON SAINTS
The Russian Christmas had been especially chosen by the young Communists as the occasion for shattering by mockery the ancient Yuletide story and the traditions which their organization hails as "religious myths." Hence the procession that threaded the streets of Moscow Monday held few reminders of the old time Christmas celebrations of the Russian church. Flaming stars of red, burlesques of the star of Bethlehem, were borne aloft at the head of the parade, followed by posters and banners upon which were daubed caricatures of deities and saints. No icons, no reminders of the church processions that in the past have marked the advent of the Christmas festival were in evidence.

SANITA IS BANNED
Lost in their long coats and army caps, young children from the orphan ages and institutions tramped through the snow led by their teachers, to watch the bonfire which their Communist elders had decreed should take the place of the chimney-side vigil in wait for Santa Claus.

There were no disorders; neither was there any attempt to prevent regular Christmas services. But here and there a street beggar, evidently oblivious of the travesty, wandered through the crowd whispering "Aims in the name of Christ on Christmas day."

PARTY LINES TIGHTEN IN DEBT TANGLE

Democrats Charge Harding Is Not Consulting Them On Important Question

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—There's a political pot boiling here over the attitude of the Republican administration toward the Democrats in connection with the reparations and foreign policy generally.

The plaint of the Democrats is that they are not being consulted. Woodrow Wilson was criticized severely for not putting at least two prominent Republicans on the American commission to negotiate peace at Paris and he was charged with looking at foreign policy through partisan eyes.

Now the Democrats are preparing the same kind of bombardment against Mr. Harding. On the all important funding commission which is to settle when the Allies shall pay the principal and interest on their war debts, there are five Republicans and no Democrats. The leaders in congress of the Democratic party are saying that Democrats helped to buy liberty bonds just as did Republicans and that any policy which will commit the government in the future should be shaped by consultation with Democrats too.

HUGHES STIRS UP MATTERS
But that isn't all. And really this is what has caused the irritation. The other day Secretary Hughes, out of a clear sky, proposed that a commission be appointed to find the facts in the reparations controversy. This is looked upon as a reflection on men like Thomas W. Lamont, Norman H. Davis and Bernard M. Baruch and the American economic experts.

Paris who made a thorough study of the question and who have since kept in close touch with the development.

BRITISH PROMISE TO PAY LAST CENT
Joint Meeting With American
Commission Is Held In Washington

By Associated Press
Washington.—Great Britain wants a fair business settlement of her five billion dollar war debt to the United States on such terms as will produce the least possible disturbance in the trade relations of the two countries.

Stanley Baldwin, the British chancellor of the exchequer declared Monday in an address before the joint meeting of the British and American debt funding commissions.

"We are not here to ask for favors or to impose on generosity," said Mr. Baldwin. "We want a fair business settlement, a square deal, a settlement that will secure for America the repayment to the last cent those credits which the United States government established in America for our associates in the war."

"We have come with the express intention of repaying our debt and it is owing to the practical difficulties of making international payments that we are about to consult with you in order to accomplish the end which we both have in view."

PAPER KING FACES LOSS OF 'LIFE' COOK SECOND TIME

Muskegon, Mich.—Eugene Meurer, millionaire paper manufacturer, was planning Monday to fight threatened deportation proceedings which would deprive him again of his cook, Miss Margaret Wasserman, 42 years.

Miss Wasserman, whose culinary talents Meurer declared were essential to his health, was arrested here Sunday night on instructions of immigration authorities who allege she entered the United States last year in violation of the federal statutes. She was taken to the county jail and released on bond of $1,000 furnished by Meurer. She then returned to the Meurer home.

The presence of Miss Wasserman in the Meurer home, was the cause of a controversy between Meurer and his family, culminating finally in a divorce. In a property settlement at the time Meurer gave his wife $50,000 and announced he had awarded Miss Wasserman $40,000 as a reward for her services.

Miss Wasserman's arrest is said to have been based on an affidavit made in New York Dec. 6, by Mrs. Walter Voith, a daughter of Meurer's, in which she alleged Miss Wasserman's position in the household was not strictly that of a cook; that she was a German citizen and that she made statements derogatory to the United States.

Here's Reason Why Some Don't Go To Church

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—The Rev. Hugh Orchard, pastor of the Second Christian church, long has believed that the reason his church was not filled on Sunday night was because of the working men did not possess clothes they believed good enough to be seen in a fashionable congregation.

Last week Mr. Orchard advertised that he would don overalls for his services Sunday night and invited members of his congregation to come dressed as they pleased. The church was packed and it contained many labor folk who were dressed in every day clothes.

Mr. Orchard pronounced the experiment a success.

RESCUE 323 FROM PASSENGER BOAT
Havana.—Three hundred and twenty-three passengers from the German transatlantic liner Holstad, which is stranded on a sand key in the Florida channel near Carysfort reef, have been taken on board the French liner De la Salle, according to wireless messages picked up here Sunday night.

The American steamer Esperanza also has some of the passengers. Both the rescue ships will arrive here on Monday. Tugs from Key West are standing by the Holstad, which apparently is undamaged.

The Holstad was bound from Hamburg to Havana by way of Spanish ports and was due to arrive here on Monday.

Madison.—To help Wisconsin agriculture start on the upward road to better days, farmers, editors and business men of the state will gather here Jan. 29 to Feb. 3 to determine the needs of the farmers and decide on ways of meeting them.

The first object is to decide how more of the products of the farm are to be merchandised not dumped upon the market to the disadvantage of both the producer and the consumer. It is intended that a program will be mapped out calling for a trial arrangement by which all dairy products are to be cooperatively marketed.

Assembled in an effort to bring the farmers' present 61 cent dollar back to par will be Badger farmers and their wives, representatives of breeders associations, of farmer merchant cooperative organizations, the Wisconsin Experimental association and leading agricultural authorities from all parts of the country.

PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO RABBI HIRSCH

Eminent Chicago Jewish Leader
Dies Sunday From Pneumonia

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Rich and poor alike Monday joined in tribute to the memory of Dr. Emil Gustav Hirsch, Jewish rabbi, lecturer and scholar for whom funeral ceremonies were to be observed this forenoon. Dr. Hirsch died early Sunday after an attack of pneumonia. He was 71.

For 43 years Dr. Hirsch was pastor of Sinai congregation here. He was a reformed Jew, holding that the Jewish Sabbath need not be celebrated on Saturday and that the scripture could be applied to the Jewish faith with modern versions. These opinions are opposed to teachings of the orthodox Jewish church.

Dr. Hirsch was born in Luxembourg, May 22, 1851. He was educated first in Germany, later receiving a degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He then returned to Germany to study at Berlin and Leipzig. In 1877 he was made rabbi and came to Chicago in 1880. Dr. Hirsch figured prominently in public life here for many years as a politician, author of monographs on religious subjects, an advocate of reform in the Jewish teachings and an official of the charitable organizations and a trustee of the Chicago Public Library.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons.

Milwaukeean Vanishes; See Kidnaping

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Hugo Schlesinger, 63, wealthy retired president of the Vera Chemical company of Milwaukee, missing since last Friday afternoon was the object of a search Monday by police of this city and Milwaukee. Trace of him was lost when he checked out of a hotel here without leaving a forwarding address. Relatives expressed fear that he might have been kidnapped.

Police of Chicago first learned of Mr. Schlesinger's disappearance from his nephew, Herman Schlesinger, professor at the University of Chicago. Credence to the kidnapping story was given because of a mysterious telephone call Sunday night to Milwaukee police by a man purporting to be Mr. Schlesinger's relative. The caller asked for the telephone number of Louis Schlesinger, brother of the missing man. A trip to California was mentioned by Mr. Schlesinger, the hotel employees told police but members of Mr. Schlesinger's family said he had little money with him to make the trip.

BULLETIN
PARIS.—The occupation of Essen by a small French force accompanying engineers and customs officers, is now slated for Thursday morning, it was stated on good authority Monday.

Belgian and Italian engineers and technical experts will accompany the French but only the Belgians, it is understood, will contribute to the force of occupation.

Premier Poincare will inform Parliament on Thursday regarding his policy toward the Ruhr district. This was decided upon at Monday's council of ministers.

"France is going just far enough in action in the Ruhr to show Germany she is in earnest," it was said in official circles.

Essen.—A permanent international "committee of action" composed of eleven members on which France is represented, was formed by the Communist party of the Ruhr district at the conclusion of its congress here Sunday. An appeal was sent to the headquarters of labor organization in the principal countries of Europe including France, urging that the workers of all nations act together.

Premier Poincare does not intend to mobilize a single soldier in addition to regular forces under arms nor call out a single additional railroad man to effect the operation, it is declared.

The silence of the government regarding its plan to seize guarantees conceals no designs to make a great show of military force, it is affirmed.

HEAR EXPERTS TODAY
It seemed certain Monday afternoon that the reparations commission would vote Germany in voluntary default on coal deliveries for last year after the final hearing of the German experts which was set for the afternoon.

The appearance of the Germans was a mere formality as their arguments are well known to the commission. The question would be decided, it was forecast, by the affirmative votes of France, Belgium and Italy with Sir John Bradbury, the British member probably abstaining from voting.

U. S. ACTS OFFICIALLY
Washington.—The plan for settlement of the reparations controversy between France and England outlined by Secretary Hughes in his New Haven address has been communicated to the French government through official channels.

No final reply has been made by Paris, although it was learned Monday that a preliminary answer had been received here from the French foreign office. It was said at the state department that the proposal was regarded as still before the French government for decision.

It was not stated when the American communication was sent but indications were that it was transmitted through diplomatic channels before Mr. Hughes delivered his address at New Haven.

52 MEN AIDED BY RED CROSS OFFICE HERE IN DECEMBER

Two Men Sent To Hospital For Quick Treatment—Auxiliary Is Helping

Fifty-two men were given attention in various ways during the month of December, according to the monthly report of the Red Cross read by Miss Ann Helm at the meeting of the Legion auxiliary last week. Miss Helm also reported that 14 men who are in training or in hospital rest, Christmas presents to the Red Cross. One was from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Middle who landed in Italy last fall. Mr. Middle expects to obtain treatment in a hospital in Switzerland.

The cases handled during the month included two emergency cases, one from Appleton and one from Ellington, both of which were sent to Milwaukee. The man from Little Chute whose compensation was reduced from $80 to $5 was again called to federal hospital 76.

There was some correspondence concerning the educational bonus for a man who is attending school outside of this state. Two claims for men in the county were settled through Mr. Burns, state American Legion service officer. There was one application for the state cash bonus, five for the Illinois bonus and two for the Iowa bonus. An application was made for a certificate in lieu of lost discharge and additional evidence was secured for nine cases.

Christmas activities of the Red Cross included sending of toys and clothing to three former service men's families. The Legion auxiliary sent baskets to two families and authorized weekly loans to three men from its poppy fund. These loans are available only to the men while they are in the hospital while their claims are pending. These men are receiving no compensation. One man was from Appleton, one from Ellington and one from Bear Creek.

Best Individual Record
For Month

Twenty cows of Ellington Cow Testing association produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat during December, and of these two produced more than 60 pounds and five more than 50 pounds of butterfat, according to the report of George Dietz, secretary, and Henry J. Lammers, official tester.

Of these cows, 11 were grade Guernseys, one a purebred Guernsey, seven purebred Holsteins and one grade Holstein. The four best records as to butterfat were made by Holsteins, the eight best by Guernseys. The highest ranking cow in the association was Polly, a 6-year-old grade Holstein owned by Mrs. A. Lochman. This cow produced 64.2 pounds of butterfat and 1,599 pounds of milk. Her test for fat was 3.9 per cent.

Beauty, a 4-year-old purebred Holstein of the Northern Farms, was next highest with a record of 62.9 pounds of butterfat and 1,599 pounds of milk. Her test was 3.7 per cent. Another good producer was Bess, a 4-year-old grade Guernsey, owned by E. Lorenz & Sons, with a record of 57 pounds of butterfat, 1,098 pounds of milk and a test of 5.2 per cent.

The highest herd average was made by the 19 grade and purebred Guernseys of Carl and Millard Breitrick. The average of 558 pounds of milk was 39.1 pounds of butterfat.

The trials and tribulations of Jackie while he is living with his newly found foster parents make up a most unusual heart interest tale, and how he finally brings happiness into the heart of his "mother" after his "father" is sentenced to prison for his brutal attacks on her, complete one of the most interesting stories seen on the screen in a great length of time.

NATURE'S OWN MELODRAMA IN REX BEACH PICTURE
Contrary to the popular impression, Alaska has a remarkably mild spring and a beautiful, verdant summer season and it is mostly in these settings that the action of the new Rex Beach production, "The Iron Trail," takes place. The Alaskan summer is as beautiful and alluring as its terrible winter is appalling in its icy grandeur. Nature seems to have selected this portion of the world in which to show the both extremes of which she is capable, and in "The Iron Trail," which opens today at Fischer's Appleton Theatre the spectator is taken from one to the other and shows life as it really is in this adventurous, fascinating country.

I SPIED TODAY

In an effort to raise the standard of items printed in "I Spied Today," only the very best stories are being printed. The section has been printed long enough to give all readers of The Post-Crescent a thorough understanding of what is wanted. The desire is to print items about news happenings or events of interest which reporters do not find. The prizes are two free tickets to the Elite theatre for each item printed.

The Post-Crescent particularly invites its adult readers to become contributors to this section. There is scarcely a reader of the paper who does not see something almost every day that would make an interesting reading if it were reported. The items should be mailed as promptly as possible so that the story does not become "stale." There is no limit to the number of items that will be printed so readers need not fear their contribution will go into the basket because there are too many of them.

HORSES WERE NOT HURT
As I was going to work Friday morning at 6:30, I spied on the corner of North Division and Second-ave. a Ford which ran headfirst into a team of horses. Both the Ford and team of horses were in the center of the road. The pole to which the horses were fastened crashed into the front end of the Ford and bent the radiator right back. This broke the top and windshield. All escaped injury.

BOOK'S ENTRIES
Police turned to the "love book." It contained passages like these:
"Mable. Call—Address—
Home on Monday and Friday nights.
Blond. Can sing. Good for dress parties."
"Evelyn. Divorces. No phone. Hair dyed. Can make you laugh."
"Grace. Husband on the road. Has private stock of her own. Will go out any time, night or day."
"Dolly. Call—Address—
Good dancer. Needs lots of coin."
It's not unlikely, say detectives working on the case, that one of the women listed in the "love book" fired for jealousy's sake the fatal shot which ended the "sheik's" game of hearts.
Margaret Koehane, who visited relatives in Appleton last week, has returned to her duties as a registered nurse in St. Anthony hospital, Chicago.

DOGS IN THE HEAVENS
People who are accustomed to gaze occasionally toward the heavens were given a treat Friday night. At 9:30 P. M. and for some time later, the waning moon was surrounded by an exceptional halo. The phenomenon of the halo or "ring around the moon" is very common both to moon and the sun, but the halo of that evening was remarkable because of the very bright patches of concentration, above, below, and to the left and right of the moon. The bright patch or "dog" to the right of the moon was faintly tinted with colors of the rainbow.

The new Rubber Russian Boot has just been turned out from fashion's laboratories. This novel bit of footwear, exhibited at the Nation Shoe Exhibition of Chicago, has a number of virtues to recommend it.
First, it will make the flapper flapless, because it has no buckles swish about after the fashion of the well remembered golosh.
Then, too, it is very chic, being a hybrid cross between the old-fashioned rubber and a pair of trout-fishing leggings, with a layer of lamb's wool about the top to heighten the Russian effect and make for durability.
Though the fashion calls for the dress being worn outside, the wearer may, if she prefers, tuck in her petticoat around the boot tops and be ready for any weather.

Sing With Orchestra
Because the high school students like to stay in the assembly room while the high school orchestra practices, the orchestra has agreed to play one number each Monday morning for the student chorus. This number will be followed by singing of the well known songs with the orchestra. This arrangement was made easily because of the fact that the orchestra has its practice on Monday afternoon and the students have to bring their instruments on that day anyway.

BIBLE GREATEST OF ALL WRITINGS, DR. RALL DECLARES

Many Questions From Floor Follow Interesting Address At Peoples Forum

Disputing the traditional theory of "verbal inspiration of the Bible, Dr. H. M. Rall of Northwestern university, stimulated a lively round of questions at the Public Forum meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening.

The address followed a musical program in which Dean Carl Waterman of Lawrence conservatory and Carl McKee sang two solos and Mr. Waterman sang a duet. Mrs. Nettie Pullin-wider was the accompanist.

It is quite remarkable, Dr. Rall said, after being introduced by Dr. W. S. Naylor, dean of Lawrence college, that the Hebrew people coming out of the desert lands, as it were, and producing no great poets, philosophers, scientists, artists, should be producers of a body of writings that has had a greater influence on humankind and held and increased its hold through the centuries in a greater degree than any other. That God revealed Himself to this people more than any other, the speakers attributed to an unusual responsive nature and a strong passion for God and religion.

ANSWERS LIFE'S QUESTION
The revelation of God as set forth in these writings is not history, science, or literature, but consists of the answers to the deepest questions of life. The method of that revelation is not mechanical dictation, but is communication of truth and light through life, the speaker declared.

The sacred writings of the Bible are significant, he said, because they grew out of the wonderful spiritual experiences of the writers. Christianity is not a religion beginning from a book like other religions, but was established before it was reduced, he said.

Through similar experiences as those of the biblical writers, but in a lesser degree, writers today are just as truly inspired as they, Dr. Rall declared. It does not follow, he added, that their writing therefore be added to the canon of the Scriptures. The writers of the New Testament recorded largely the inspired message of Jesus Christ and their writings are unique for that reason, he pointed out.

HAVE TWO NATURES
The Scriptures, like the person of Jesus Christ, are both human and divine, he said. Far from being non-human, it is the most human book in existence as none other strikes such a responsive chord in man.

That the Bible should be used for its moral and spiritual values, rather than for the worship of the letter, was a point brought out by the speaker. The verbal theory of inspiration is fast losing ground even among the most conservative and orthodox, he said. Objectionable history of psalms are now being eliminated from public worship, for much of the Bible is now being interpreted as allegory and its readers discriminate against certain passages and choose what suits their purpose and fits their need most.

TO DISCUSS DEVELOPMENT OF NORTHERN WISCONSIN

Announcement has been received by the chamber of commerce of the tri-state development congress to be conducted by the Upper Peninsula Development bureau at Menominee, Mich., Jan. 18 and 19. Wisconsin cities are asked to send representatives.

The meeting takes up development of cutover lands in the lake states, including Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. Many phases of promotion of the north are included in the program.

ISLAND SO DEVASTED THAT MONEY IS USELESS

By Associated Press
Escanaba, Mich.—Glad New Year's news was received here by Steve Trekes, a local barber, from his mother who fled when the Turks devastated Smyrna and who he had mourned as dead. She is alive on Mitylene Island, the letter informs. With her are a married daughter and a 17 year old son.

The letter written by Trekes mother in September tells of conditions in the refugee camp. She said they were given a daily bread ration by the Greek government and many are suffering from exposure in the season of rain. Many, she added, found shelter in old barns and basements.

Mrs. Trekes wrote that she had not received money sent to her by her son and explained that there is nothing on the island to buy with money.

BULLETIN ON HUBER BILL, SOON READY

Special bulletins to be issued by the Industrial Information bureau of the Huber unemployment insurance bill which will be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature are almost ready for distribution. It is the plan of the chamber to have copies in the hands of employers before next Thursday, when the public meeting of Wisconsin Association of Master Builders dealing with this subject occurs at Lawrence Memorial chapel. A review of the measure, it is believed, will help Appleton men to participate ably in the discussion following talks on both sides of the bill at the builders' convention.

RADIO PATTERN

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
Los Angeles — A few nights ago Thomas E. Nikirk helped rock the babies to sleep, called his wife to his side rolled up his sleeves, tapped his radio key here and sent out a message that was heard in France.

Nikirk, who is 24 years old, thus spanned the air farther than any other "ham" or amateur operator—some 6,000 miles as the waves fly. Today from all over the world messages of congratulation are coming to his door. 6KA, as it is officially known, is one of those little gray homes in the west such as pioneers built for themselves. It snugles almost insignificantly under the towering aereals and his young wife constructed. Most of its furnishings these two have built, including the apparatus which enables Nikirk to reach other local fingers half way round the world.

"Florence, my wife, deserves full half the credit," he said in modest admission of his acclaimed exploit. "Without her helping hands and her tireless enthusiasm, I probably wouldn't have been able to set this new record."

For 13 years Nikirk, an employee of a Southern California electrical company, has been experimenting with radio. He was one of 325 from the United States and Canada to qualify for the recent trans-Atlantic radio test sponsored by the American Radio Relay league. So far as known he is the first and only sender west of the Rockies to be heard in France—a feat regarded as amazing for an amateur.

"A late type transmitter, together with knowledge how to use it was responsible for my success," he said.

DETAILS OF SET
Following is Nikirk's description of the home made set which has many times, tingled the ears of New England, Florida, Honolulu and other remote places as well as those across the Atlantic:

"I use a 250-watt vacuum tube with pancake inductances. The power transformer furnishes power for the plate of the tube at a voltage between 3,000 and 4,000.

"The high voltage alternating current is modified by a synchronous rectifier of the diode type. This was designed by V. M. Bliz, whose initials symbol is 6JD, and myself. A by-pass condenser of glass plates withstands the high voltage.

"Four audio frequency chokes and two radio frequency chokes are used in the high voltage lead to prevent kick-back, to smooth the AC hum and to give as near DC as possible to obtain under these conditions.

HIGH POWER
"An antenna current from 12 to 14 amperes was obtained depending upon the lighting line voltage.

"The antennae are 73 feet high and 57 feet long of the T-type. The flat-top consists of 5 wires on 14-foot spreaders with a cage lead-in. A counterpoise 40 feet wide and 70 feet long is suspended on insulators such as are used in high line construction work of electric light companies—something not generally used in amateur radio devices. It is composed of 6 wires, 10 feet above the ground, with 3/4 inch brass ribbons for the lead-in.

For the 200-meter work, a modified Hartley circuit, inductively coupled, seems to give excellent results.

"The receiver is of my own construction, of special design, using normally four vacuum tubes, with which signals from the Atlantic Coast and

POLICE CRUSADE AGAINST BOOZE MORE INTENSIVE

Report Shows Gain In Arrests For Year—Speeding Tops List

Although there were fewer arrests in Appleton last year than during the year previous, a 36 per cent increase in the number of arrests for violations of the liquor laws is shown by the police records kept by Chief George T. Prim.

Arrests for drunkenness and driving an automobile while intoxicated 40 per cent, while arrests for violation of the state prohibition act increased 25 per cent. In 1921 there was a 93 per cent increase in the number of violations of prohibition laws over the year 1920.

Last year 247 arrests were made by the Appleton police, as compared with 265 in 1921 and 183 arrests in the year 1920. Of the 247 arrests last year, "booze" figured in 79 of them or forming about 32 per cent of the total.

LESS THEFT
While the number of arrests for speeding, drunkenness, assault and the battery and violating the prohibition laws increased, a decrease is shown in the number of arrests for larceny, vagrancy, burglary, non-support and incorrigibility.

Speeding heads the list of charges preferred against the law violators of 1922, the total of 45 arrests of 1921 was increased to 66. Drunkenness is second with 50 arrests. The other principal arrests are in the following order: Violation of prohibition laws, 20; larceny, 11; burglary 9; driving while drunk, 8; assault and battery, 7; driving without license, 6; lewd conduct, 5; trespassing, 5; obtaining money under false pretense, 5; reckless driving, 5; statutory offenses, 5; disturbing the peace, 4.

MANY MINOR CRIMES
There were two arrests each for impersonation, failure to pay board bill, failure to support, incorrigibility, refusing aid to injured persons, passing worthless checks, child delinquency, and one each of peddling without license, vagrancy, taking automobile under owner's consent, malicious destruction of property, carrying concealed weapons, selling mortgaged property, embezzlement, forgery and insanity.

In addition to making these arrests, the Appleton police cooperated with police departments in other cities by capturing 27 fugitives of justice and turning them over to the proper authorities.

Honolulu have often been heard all over the house.

"Everything I use, except the meters and tubes, are home constructed."

HOLD 'EM DOWN!
In one year, ending June 30, 1922, broadcasting stations in the United States increased from 5 to 352. Now, with some 600 stations going, officials are trying to find a means to check this increase.

BELLEAU WOOD FOR MEMORIAL

Newspaper readers may recall that the American troops first made their power felt in the World war in the battle of Belleau Wood. For that reason the battle, though a minor engagement, will be forever memorable. It is common for American visitors to France to make a pilgrimage to the spot.

Recently the forest came near being sold to a French company to be turned into an amusement park for the exploitation of American tourists. Looking upon that as a desecration, several patriotic Americans, headed by Mrs. James Carroll Frazer of Washington, D. C., started a movement to gain possession of the place and dedicate it as an American memorial. The grounds can be bought for $16,000. It is proposed to rebuild Belleau Village and mark and preserve the whole battlefield for future generations, as similar spots have been preserved in this country.

It is a worthy enterprise, for which the promoters should have no difficulty in raising sufficient funds. Whatever one may think about Europe, the children and grandchildren of the A. E. F. will take lasting pride in such a monument.

COLLEGE AND NEWSPAPER ENGLISH

"It's amazing," says Dr. Walter B. Pitkin of the Pulitzer School of Journalism, "how little about even the elementary principles of the language the average college instructor knows. Not one out of 400 of them can write good enough English to appear in a newspaper."

This statement may puzzle some critical folk who have anything but a high regard for "newspaper English." In fairness it should be admitted that there is a great deal of poor English printed in the daily press, and also in the magazines, and that college professors usually think as little of newspaper style as the newspapers think of professorial style.

It is a fact, however, that the style affected by the ordinary college professor or instructor is so academic, so much drawn from books and written in a sort of scholastic scale, that the ordinary citizen often has a hard time figuring out what it means.

The newspapers with all their hasty preparation and appearance of shallowness, and written in a style that is drawn from life, which approximates natural human speech, and which has solved the psychology of the reading public better than the style of the college. If the purpose of writing and printing is to convey ideas most effectively from one mind to another, newspaper writing is certainly superior.

BUSINESS FAILURES AND THEIR PREVENTION

Bradstreet's reports of commercial failures for the past several years are interesting. There were 22,400 failures in 1922, 11.9 per cent more than in 1921, and 164 per cent more than in 1920. The liabilities involved in these failures totaled $646,955,653 for 1922, 14 per cent less than in 1921, but 51 per cent greater than in 1920.

Losses were smaller last year than in 1921, but larger than in 1920. They were five times greater than in 1919, and 81 per cent larger than those of 1914.

Commercial failures occur every year, and ordinarily many of them are due to mistakes of judgment, altered conditions, and other causes besides mismanagement and lack of experience or foresight. Failures mount up in critical years, when prosperity suddenly explodes. So, it is quite evident that big losses are the consequences of severe reaction.

Failures due to usual causes are scarcely preventable. Most of them which result from extreme prosperity could be obviated if commercial executives were familiar with the underlying principles of economics, or if they heeded the warning of their bankers.

The heavy losses of the past three years were reactionary losses, which caution and prevision could have largely averted. When the loans and discounts of the banks rise to dizzy heights, costs cannot be held down and prices soar. It is then the warning signs of caution make their appearance, but unfortunately too many business men see only the apparent opportunity of augmenting business. The idea never strikes many of them that they really are operating in a combination of circumstances equivalent to loss instead of profit.

DECLARATION OF PUBLIC RIGHTS

The United States coal commission has served notice on the bituminous coal miners and operators that there must not be another coal strike. The commission states that the government will not allow any strikes.

It is full justice to the operators and miners to afford them ample opportunity to agree on wages and working conditions. If they cannot reach an agreement, they cannot expect the government to ignore the rights of the public.

FAR REACHING TAX DECISION

The principle of equity laid down by the United States supreme court in the discriminatory taxation suit of the Sioux City Bridge Company against Dakota county, Nebraska, will have an important bearing on the making of assessments everywhere. It may, in fact, bring about true equalization.

The bridge company alleged that its property was assessed to a valuation of 100 per cent, whereas other property in the county was appraised at fifty-five per cent for taxation purposes. The highest tribunal remanded the case to the lower court, with instructions to remove any discrimination which may exist.

The strong point in the court's opinion is that any taxpayer whose property is assessed at an excessive relative value may compel a hearing of his cause, though the law itself may not so provide. Obviously, the opinion gives taxpayers the means of forcing equitable valuation and assessment, and from this standpoint it indicates far-reaching possibilities.

PROTECTING TRADE SECRETS

Twenty-two Pennsylvania furnace companies have won their suit to restrain the Federal Trade commission from requiring them to divulge trade secrets. The District of Columbia Court of Appeals has sustained the decision of the District's Supreme Court.

The commission ordered the companies to submit monthly reports of production costs and operating results. The respondents maintained that such information was trade secrets.

The company that can run its plant or business more cheaply than another company has a fair advantage. For its excellence it is entitled either to larger profits or greater business, as it may elect. Certain disclosures would clearly be valuable to competitors, and, at the same time, detrimental to a well managed concern. In effect, efficiency would be penalized by revealing details.

In some lines of industry cost items were exchanged among concerns believed to be rivals. These concerns were thus enabled to fix prices on the basis of the highest costs. As this practice has been declared illegal, it is a logical inference that certain facts are really trade secrets and should be protected.

INTELLECTUAL CHICKEN FEED

Brilliance in conversation is the ideal toward which we all aspire. Most of us deep down in our hearts confess to ourselves that we possess the quality of brilliance, though our record up to date may be 100 per cent stumble.

Conversation certainly is a noble art, and as long as we are on the subject, Dr. Fairbank B. Stockdale of Bay Side, Long Island, has discovered the paragon of conversationalists.

After long study, the doctor has identified 21 distinct noises commonly used by the domestic chicken, coop species. And the doctor confesses that he has not plumbed the depths of poultry talk. There is stirring sequence to the rooster's crow and a mother's lullaby to the cluck of the hen.

Delicious irony and profound logic cackle forth in the chicken vocabulary. From the wild warning of the hawk, to the mouth-watering cry, here comes Dr. Stockdale's study should be continued. Much of help to human conversation will doubtless be learned from a thorough knowledge of hen-talk.

The fact that we have always felt that chickens have no brains will not discourage us in the realization of our conversational ambitions. It should rather give us renewed hope.—DETROIT NEWS.

NOSEBLEED

Bleeding from the nose may be due to injury, long standing abnormalities of the lining with which its rich blood supply; acute congestion accompanying such attacks as sinusitis, adenoid inflammation, middle ear or mastoid infection or uncomplicated acute rhinitis (coryza); a little ulcer on the septal cartilage perhaps caused by injury of this delicate surface by the finger nail or handkerchief in removing crusts; and in some instances systemic conditions such as anemia, Bright's disease or impaired compensation in heart disease may be responsible.

Of the innumerable remedies of domestic medicine I need say nothing. Of nosebleeds, however, I may say that, like warts and miracle healers, they come and go without let or hindrance and so our old friend A. J. Colvance gets in some telling work. As a rule nosebleed is harmless and stops of itself if you remain quiet and do nothing rash. Not a bit of harm in allowing an innocent bystander to hold a cold wet cloth on your neck or wind a thread around the middle joint of your left finger, provided you remain passive and do not become excited. It was formerly a common practice of physicians to plug the nasal passage fore and aft with gauze to stop nosebleed. This may still be justifiable in rare cases of uncontrolled bleeding in grave illness. But every competent family doctor today is prepared to illuminate the nasal cavity and stop precisely where the bleeding spot is and apply a suitable styptic. This is a comparatively simple procedure for the physician, properly equipped with head mirror and nasal speculum—good physicians are so equipped nowadays.

In some instances of excessive and uncontrollable bleeding from the nose, whether in "bleeders" or not, the local application and injection into the blood of pure horse serum or an extract of brain substance restores or increases the power of the blood to clot and so stops the bleeding.

Possibly a rather profuse nosebleed is a fortunate occurrence in certain cases of congestive headache associated with acute sinusitis or ear infections. The nosebleed which not rarely occurs in persons with arterial disease associated with high blood pressure is of questionable value. Bleeding, either accidental or remedial, has little or no effect on blood pressure, other than the momentary feeling of drop of an hour or so.

One taken with nosebleed should sit quietly with the body inclined slightly forward and the head slightly bowed in the listening attitude, the eyes cast down or closed. The nostrils may be gently closed between the fingers. Any light or restricting clothing should be loosened. Absolute quiet and relaxation, as though trying to breathe through the nose maintained. No attempt to breathe through the nose, or to blow or clear the nose should be made. Nothing should be sniffed into the nose. If the bleeding continues over an hour medical care should be sought.

FOREIGN EDITORIAL DIGEST

NITTI ON VERSAILLES PACT

Prague—Nitti, the ex-Italian Premier, in his latest book, points out what would have been the position of France and Italy, had Germany been victorious and made a treaty similar to the Versailles one. He says:

"Let us suppose France and Italy had lost the war and the conditions of the Versailles and St. Germain treaties had been imposed on these lands.

"According to this Italy would have had to give up the provinces of Udine and Treviso to Austria, and that would have been very little compared to the four million Germans in Austria, which with the oldest German towns have been given to other nations. In comparison to the final surrender to the Saar basin, Italy would have had to give up at least the hydro-electric works of the provinces of Como and Sondrio, with the right of removing the electric energy to Austria. Being in want of an outlet to the Mediterranean, Austria would naturally have demanded a harbor on the Adriatic Sea, and corresponding to the proceedings in Danzig, she would have demanded a corridor, which would have divided Piedmont from Lombardy and would have completely isolated it from the rest of Italy. To ensure an indemnity of half the amount demanded from Germany, Italy would have had to pay 60 billions and bind herself to provide for an army of occupation of at least 70,000 black and white soldiers in the provinces of Milan and Pavia, and to be punished with the occupation of Bologna and Ferrara if these conditions were not carried out. Added to which she would have to give up all Italian property abroad as well as the merchant ships and her colonies.

If the same conditions were applied to France, she would have had to give up first of all her colonies, the whole of her merchant fleet, all her cables. As the wealth of France is about equal to that of Germany it would have been only right of Germany to demand 150 billions in gold. In comparison to the Saar mines France could have given up all her mines in the Pas de Calais, and as very weak parallel to Upper Silesia the industrial district of Briey. In order to have direct outlet to the Mediterranean, Germany would have perhaps preferred the harbor of Genoa to a corridor from Alsace to the coast.

"To ensure the 150 billions, 100,000 Germans with 30,000 negroes and other colored men from East Africa, Cameroon, Togo and New Guinea, would have occupied the district of Burgundy and the French Comte, with headquarters in Lyons, Dijon, Roulogne and Rouen, where they would live preferably in the houses of the richest inhabitants. All these people would have cost at least 400 million francs. Although she had been obliged to disarm and to surrender her fleet, France would have seen Germany next to her with a million soldiers under arms, continually threatening to occupy more territory.

"The state finances as well as railways, canals, rivers, would of course be put under the control of special commissions. And to crown the whole France would have had to declare that she would not consider any insult or any act of hatred or revenge as an expression of animosity on the part of Germany.

"The French and Italians cannot possibly think of such eventualities without shuddering. Better to die in battle than live defeated, when defeat means the cruel degradation and the most complete ruin. And yet the French and Italians do not realize the consequences of these treaties or if they do they continue to speak cynically of the rights of victory and to repeat that the Entente fought for the triumph of liberty and right. We should blush if we were accused of treating wild people as we are treating Germany. Yet we consider any treatment is allowed for this people who in the last 150 years has produced the greatest thinkers, from Kant to Schopenhauer, the greatest musicians and poets, from Beethoven to Wagner and Goethe, and has given enormous contributions to science and its industrial application.

"What future are we preparing for our sons in this way? The situation which we are creating today, we shall meet tomorrow, and we shall not recover again the peace between nations, our prosperity, nor the necessary conditions of life until we have abandoned this miserable period of uncertainty and brutality. The problem of Germany and the defeated countries are the problem of the whole world and the peace and economic prosperity of the whole world depend only on its solution."

NIGHTMARE FISH IN LONDON

London—One of the strangest collections of live tropical fish, reptiles, and batrachians to reach our shores has just arrived in London says the Chronicle.

Many of the specimens hail from the Far East, and may well be described as "globe trotters," for, after breaking their journey in the metropolis, they are being exported again to Johannesburg, Buenos Ayres and other out-of-the-way spots.

There were at least 2,500 fish in the consignment, which was brought over personally from Germany by Mr. B. T. Child, naturalist, of Pentonville road.

Included in the lot were snake-headed fish, a species of goby never before imported alive into this country, and 100 Indian climbing perch.

In addition there were rare anurans, lizards, snakes, baby amphipumas—like salamanders suggestive of a "fisherman's nightmare," ornamented catfishes—a gaily-hued but hideous Brazilian toad, 200 Mexican axolotls—an equally repulsive though interesting batrachian of typhoid fame, "two-headed snakes," and some particularly large chameleons, which probably heat the lot for sheer ugliness.

All these weird and wonderful creatures Mr. Child kept in his cabin during the voyage to England, so that they might have necessary attention, but he is so used to companions of this sort that he tells me he has on more than one occasion had a python for a pillow."

FUEL

The following extract from a letter recently received from one of the largest producers of COAL throws some light on the present coal situation:

"Since the development of the Railway strike July 1st our production has steadily decreased and we have never been able to load anything like sufficient tonnage to take care of our contracts. In fact, at the present time we are only receiving sufficient cars to keep our mines in operation about two days a week. Under these conditions you will readily understand we could make no additional sales when we are only shipping about one-half of the coal we have sold under contract."

A Nation's Tribute to Buick

There is an inspiring tribute to an industry in the universal recognition annually accorded the National Automobile Shows.

Thousands come to these exhibitions from every section of the continent and from foreign lands as well, and their advent is widely heralded the world over.

In the twenty-third National Automobile Show, just opening in New York, and later in Chicago, the nation is provided with a display of its chief means of personal transportation. This display is so complete and so magnificently set forth that all who come may easily carry away a perfect picture of the latest accomplishments in motor car building.

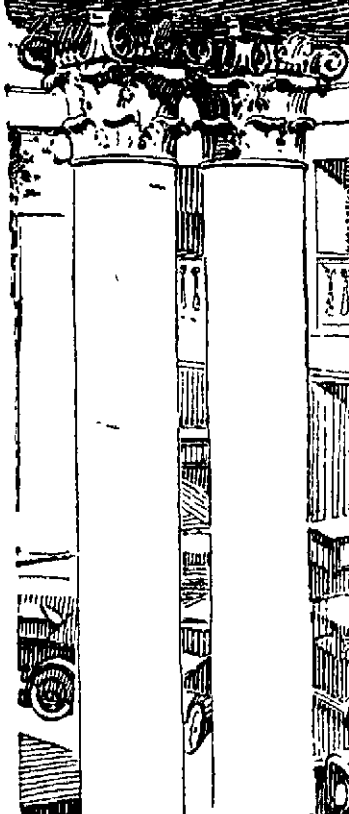

Year after year the national shows receive the homage of the entire country. Year after year they mark by their own increased magnitude and splendor, the increased growth of the automobile industry.

In occupying first place at both national shows for the fifth consecutive year, Buick continues the position in the industry awarded it by universal public opinion.

ROLL CALL LACKS ENOUGH MONEY FOR SERVICE MEN'S AID

Appleton Chapter Receives Only $248.65—Look To County For Help

The 1922 roll call of the Appleton branch of the American Red Cross brought $248.65 in the form of 54 memberships and $194.65 in contributions. Half of the money from memberships is remitted to the national organization, but all of the contributions remain with the local chapter.

This is not enough money to carry on the work of the Red Cross with the former service men, but since the branch has voted to continue the work here as long as it is needed, it is possible that some plans for financing the work will be made soon.

Each township in the county is a unit of the Red Cross and conducts its own roll call where there are no branches. The branches which had roll call this year were Black Creek, Seymour and Appleton. Black Creek took in $24.50 and Seymour $40. The treasurers in county still contain $2,128.09 and some have already been used for the former service men's work.

County branches have not met officially to decide the program of the year. The amounts in the county treasuries are: Kimberly, $151.79; Hortonville, $361.33; Ellington, $99.89; Bear Creek, $200; Black Creek, $121.25; Seymour, $1193.78. Each branch has its own treasurer.

OPEN BLOTTER WAR AGAINST CIGARET

The Appleton organization of the Women's Christian Temperance union has received a quota of blotters on which is a statement concerning the evils of cigarette. The members of the organization will furnish the blotters to the schools. Dr. F. M. Inler, who is in charge of Blotters at Lawrence college, has asked for at least 200 of the blotters and has said that he could use as many as 500.

The message on the blotter includes a letter from Thomas A. Edison to Henry Ford explaining the scientific reason for the harm of cigarette smoking. It also gives a list of the prominent men and firms which have declined use of the much smoked "pill."

COUNTY MAY GET CEMENT THROUGH STATE PURCHASE

The county-state road and bridge committee was scheduled to hold a postponed session at the courthouse Monday afternoon. Action is awaited of the committee on the proposal of buying the county cement supply for 1923 through the state. The county last year ordered its cement direct through this arrangement. By buying cement in large lots, the state highway commission is able to get it at a reduced price. Approximately 1,544,000 barrels of cement for delivery during 1923 will be furnished through the state for state and federal aid projects, including road work, bridges and culverts.

OXEN BOUGHT BY LOCAL MEN ARRIVE IN CITY

The yoke of Brown Swiss oxen purchased by the real estate firm of Laubs & Shepherd from J. Drews of the town of Winchester was delivered Monday and will be used for advertising purposes. The animals made the trip of 16 miles without showing apparent fatigue and were in charge of their former owner.

Attached to a heavy sleigh loaded with logs, they will make their first appearance on the streets within the next few days. Some of the old settlers are taxing their memory to recall how many years have elapsed since the last yoke of oxen was seen on College-ave.

Peaceful War at Irish Consulate

SPARED BY TURKS WHEN SHE FLASHED HER 4 GOLD TEETH

Odd Effect Of Crin Restores Armenian Mother To Her Four Children

Special to Post-Crescent
Philadelphia—Thanks to her four gold teeth, which seem to have given her a charmed life, a woman here is happily reunited with her four children after terrifying experiences in the Near East.

This "Woman of Mystery," as the Turks called her, is Mrs. Yevnigh Yacoubian. She was living in the Armenian town of Caserea, when the Turks came. Her husband was shot, her boy was taken from her and she was about to be carried off by an officer when she flashed her teeth.

"The effect," says Mrs. Yacoubian, "was almost unbelievable. The Turk dropped his gun and stared at me. The life of my boy was spared, and I was saved."

In Thrace the possession of gold teeth reflects something almost supernatural.

PICKED UP BY ARABS
"After two weeks' imprisonment we were started on a march to the Arabian desert 1800 miles away."

"On the way I contracted typhus. I fell in a faint on the road. The soldiers thought I had died."

But I managed to crawl along the road until I reached the edge of the desert, eating nuts, the bark of trees and licking the moist blades of grass.

A band of roving Arabs found me. They had already learned of the "mystery woman" who had braved the Turkish officer. They recognized me by the gold teeth.

"They took me to some Armenians in the nearby country."

"Then I learned the children had been taken to Konia, to a Near East Relief orphanage. Reunited we luckily caught the last train to leave the interior of the hostile territory and fled for Thrace before the Turks began their wholesale deportation."

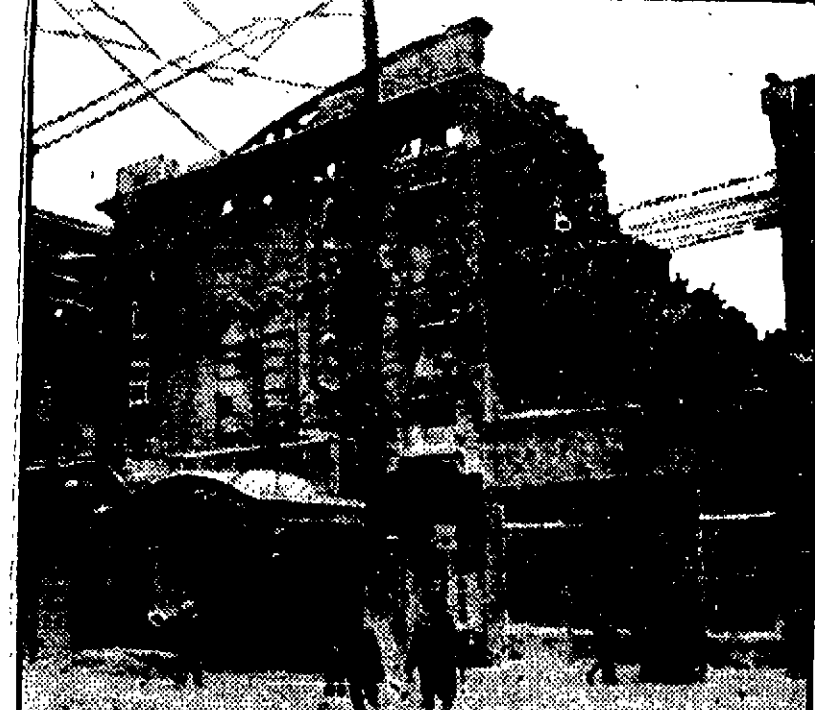

"In three days we reached Constantinople. On the way we were stopped twice by Turkish soldiers. But everywhere, it seemed, the Turks had heard the story of Caserea. When they saw my gold teeth they refrained from interfering with me."

"These teeth may not be what you Americans call the 'right style,' but they have meant life and happiness to me."

MENZNER GIVES PAPER AT VALLEY PASTOR'S MEETING

SCHOOLS TO HONOR SOUTH SONG POET

Programs Arranged For Week Laud Work Of Stephen Collins Foster

Saturday, Jan. 13, will mark the fifty-ninth anniversary of the death of Stephen Collins Foster, noted author and composer of southern folk songs, and a number of schools throughout the county will commemorate this event with special programs on Friday.

Every nation has its characteristic folk songs. In this country, it appears, the national folk songs have come from old plantation days. Stephen Collins Foster gave birth to American folk music and his compositions form the basis of most of the collections of songs for community singing.

Foster was born July 4, 1826, in Pittsburgh. His devotion to his cultured southern mother, contains his interest in southern folk lore. He was a self-taught musician and wrote both words and music. He produced 175 songs, the best known of which are "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe," "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," "Old Folks at Home," "John Brown's Body," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," and "Old Uncle Ned."

Keeping Good Resolutions Is Good For Will

W. S. Ford addressed members of the Epworth League of First Methodist church following a 6 o'clock luncheon in the parlors of the church Sunday evening. Chair and lamps were arranged around an open fire in one of the fireplaces, making a pleasing and "homey" setting for a meeting. Mr. Ford spoke on resolutions, explaining the value of making and maintaining them. He said the person who makes the resolution and keeps it, gains in will power while the person who abandons it after a short trial is only allowing himself to slip and is losing more self-control each time. Miss Esther Miller read several of Edgar Guest's poems.

WITNESSES ABSENT; DEFER SCHMIDT TRIAL
Trial of Elmer Schmidt for larceny by bailer in connection with the robbery last November of the Northwest passenger station where he was employed as ticket agent, was again postponed in municipal court Monday morning.

Railroad company detectives had come to the trial and the jury also was present, but on account of the inability of material witnesses of the state to be present, the case was adjourned until Jan. 19. Fred V. Heinemann, former district attorney, and John A. Lonsdale, district attorney, both are representing the state.

"Y" PLANS GOSPEL TEAM TO ASSIST CHURCHES

A meeting of the religious committee of the Y. M. C. A. was held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. to arrange for a religious work problem. Nine cooperating churches were represented.

The general plan is to develop a gospel team of men to visit the churches in Appleton and surrounding country should then call for help at an occasional evening service. The services will consist of short talks, special music and singing.

Another phase of the work considered was a devotional Bible class for men which will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoons at the Y. M. C. A. It will be a training and discussion class.

PLANTZ WILL ADDRESS TWO EDUCATIONAL BODIES
Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, will leave on Tuesday to attend two conventions in Chicago and Evanston. He will present an address on "College Entrance Conditions" before the Methodist Educational association which meets at Evanston on Wednesday and Thursday. On Thursday evening he will deliver the president's address of the Association of American Colleges in Chicago. His subject will be "College Objectives and Ideals." He expects to be gone the greater part of the week.

promoted Harding's senatorial campaign. In 1920, Daugherty managed Harding's presidential campaign. The Ohio state records show that more than $18,000 of the $20,000 spent for Harding's nomination was contributed by his old friend and adviser, Harry M. Daugherty.

Selection of Daugherty for the cabinet followed. Daugherty's wife has long been an invalid, a fact, it is believed, that has caused Daugherty repeatedly to refuse offices which would necessitate their moving from their home in Columbus.

Daugherty was born in Washington, D. C., Jan. 26, 1869. His father died when he was four years old. The boy worked as an errand boy, as a gardener, and a grocery clerk while attending school and saved money to put himself through the University of Michigan.

In 1891, Daugherty took up law and entered politics in Washington. He attended the legislature from there and became skilled in legislative procedure.

EXONERATED OF CHARGES
The legislative session Daugherty attended was followed by charges of bribery in connection with the vote for John Sherman, candidate for U. S. senator. Daugherty's name was mentioned in connection with the charges, but he was exonerated in 1892.

That year Daugherty moved to Columbus, where he practiced law and took a prominent part in state politics. He was Republican state central committee chairman in 1898.

In 1902 he formed the law firm of Daugherty, Todd & Rarer, with which he was associated when he became attorney general. The firm's clients included some of the biggest corporations in America.

But politics largely occupied Daugherty's attention. He was on the Taft steering committee at the 1908 Republican national convention.

An act for which his political opponents berate him is his participation in getting commutation of the sentence of Charles W. Morse, convicted of false entries in the books of the Bank of North America.

HARDING'S FRIEND
Twenty years ago Warren G. Harding came to the Ohio Legislature from Marion. Daugherty met him and a close friendship started. Daugherty lost no opportunity to advance Harding politically.

In 1904 he helped elect Harding lieutenant governor of Ohio. He also promoted Harding's senatorial campaign.

In 1920, Daugherty managed Harding's presidential campaign. The Ohio state records show that more than $18,000 of the $20,000 spent for Harding's nomination was contributed by his old friend and adviser, Harry M. Daugherty.

Selection of Daugherty for the cabinet followed. Daugherty's wife has long been an invalid, a fact, it is believed, that has caused Daugherty repeatedly to refuse offices which would necessitate their moving from their home in Columbus.

Havana Cafes Speed Up To Shake Lounge Lizards

By Associated Press
Havana, Cuba—High rents are successfully supplementing the futile attempts of the law to eliminate the more undesirable features of that ancient Latin institution—the corner cafe lounge. Taking their cue from the high efficiency cigar stores and quick lunch counters of the United States, several Havana cafe owners, who are paying top prices for coice locations, have rid themselves of the drones who crowd their establishments and drive away clients.

They have removed the convenient tables and chairs, enlarged their bars and counters where coffee and other refreshments are served, and adopted other methods to assure quick service and speedy profits. The group of domino players who spent about 50 cents a day and occupied the best table, has been forced to move. The political orator soon tires if he cannot sit down occasionally.

The whole tribe of loungers finds it hard to pass a few hours in a cafe where the bar is swabbed continually with a wet cloth, to the detriment of carelessly placed elbows, and white shoes suffer from a constantly moving mop. While the practice has improved sales and increased profits, nobody as yet has endeavored to learn whether the reform has pleased the weaker sex. It is a common belief that the first time a Cuban matron runs the gauntlet in front of any one of the popular downtown cafes without exciting comment from the gallants lounging there, she goes home to weep for her lost youth and feminine fascination.

GULLS RESUME HABIT OF WINTERING IN LONDON

By Associated Press
London—For the first time in many years the river front of London is filled this winter with thousands of sea gulls which have come up the river from the English Channel. The gulls made a habit of spending the winter along the Thames embankment before the war, but for the last six years they have neglected the custom and gone elsewhere. The birds make their homes in the many nooks and crannies of the buildings on the river, and under the bridges. There is a continuous supply of food for them, as the city authorities have established a daily feeding time, and in addition hundreds of loungers offer them tempting bits of food.

GOLD MOUNTED HARNESS GIFT TO KING ALBERT

By Associated Press
Brussels—A number of costly gifts, including a set of harness mounted in gold and enriched with precious stones, have been presented to King

Albert by Ras Tafari, regent Abyssinia. Among the gifts were many shields and sabers, one of which formerly belonged to Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia at the battle of Adowa. Similar gifts were sent from Abyssinia to the late Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, when he recognized Abyssinian independence.

A Conclusion for Ten Men Under Forty Which Ten Men Over Forty Will Recognize

THE president of a very large national concern upon being presented with the facts concerning the Chicago Evening American's "under forty" circulation, said:

"Gentlemen, I have been overlooking a very important matter, which is that there is now a generation behind me—a most important factor in the consumption of my merchandise.

"It has suddenly come to me that I have been trying to sell goods to myself. In other words, I have been placing my advertising only in such papers as are meant for older men like myself and utterly forgetting that we are only a handful whose needs are few as compared with the younger, up-and-coming generation whose needs are many.

"From now on a full quota of my advertising will appear in your Chicago Evening American."

YOU TEN or twenty gentlemen in this city towards whom this campaign of the Chicago Evening American has been directed are divided into two classes. First, you "doers" who are mostly the active force of your concern, and who are responsible for its sales and its promotion; and who for the most part are men around forty or under.

And second, you "watchers" whose activity in your concern is mostly mental, who are responsible for the profits of your concern, whose job is to see that the "doers" do right and who for the most part are men considerably over forty.

Both of you groups must recognize the logic of the argument which the Chicago American has put forth. Here are the facts as we have enumerated them.

First, The Chicago Evening American is a virile, vigorous newspaper, designed to appeal to people under forty and to those who think under forty. It has been definitely constructed day after day for twenty years to this end.

The reasons for building this kind of a newspaper are three:

First, because there are more people under forty than there are over forty. That means greater circulation.

Second, because, as a rule, such minds are more open to new things. That means greater acceptability of advertising.

And Third, because people under forty have more needs than people over forty. They represent families who are coming into life with more and more needs as the family grows, as contrasted with those who have already supplied their needs and who are gradually getting rid of their load. And this means greater buying power.

The Chicago Evening American now has the largest circulation of any evening paper published in the great Chicago evening paper field.

The number of people who buy the Chicago Evening American every night is 391,837. They pay 50% more for their Evening American than they would have to pay for the Evening American's nearest competitor, which lies side by side with it on the newsstands.

Therefore, in the judgment of 391,837 people The Chicago Evening American is a better newspaper, better suited to their needs.

These, gentlemen, are facts that you simply cannot get away from. This is the most tremendous buying power that has ever been gathered together under one circulation roof in Chicago's great evening paper field.

You are now making up your schedules for the coming year. Put the Chicago Evening American on your list and the production manager in your factory will know that something has happened in Chicago.

With such a tremendous buying power it couldn't be otherwise.

Please remember that twenty-four hours after you write or wire us, one of our merchandisers who knows Chicago and the Chicago market—not merely a solicitor—can be at your desk.

LUTHERAN LEAGUE WILL HOLD ALLEY TOURNAMENT HERE

At Least 13 Cities Will Send Bowlers Here For Meet Starting Feb. 17

Appleton will be the scene of two bowling tournaments this winter. Along with the news of the preparation being made by the Elks of this city for the coming state pin tourney which will bring the antlered folk here by the end of this month, announcement was made Monday that the Fox River Valley Lutheran Athletic association has decided to hold its bowling tournament in Appleton beginning Feb. 17.

Plans for the tourney were formulated at a meeting of the bowling committee Sunday afternoon in Mt. Olive church. The games will be rolled on the Lutheran Aid alleys which will be opened on Feb. 1. In addition to the 13 cities, members of the athletic body, any other Lutheran organization belonging to the synodical conference, will be invited to enter teams.

The committee, made up of Fred Mills, Kaukauna, Krueger, New London and Floyd Doefler of Appleton, voted to award trophies for five men events, doubles and singles. Entries must be made with Mr. Doefler, 941 Drew st., Appleton by Jan. 25.

Appleton will enter teams from two organizations, Mt. Olive and St. Paul. Other cities who said they will roll here are Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Two Rivers, Manitowish, New London, Manawa and Clintonville.

According to present plans no definite date has been fixed for the end of the tournament, that depending on the number of teams.

2 FIRE ALARMS SUNDAY MORNING

While Appleton churchgoing folk were on their way to their places of worship Sunday morning the fire department answered two fire alarms, one of which was to extinguish a garage fire, the other a chimney fire, neither causing damage of any consequence.

The automobile garage of William Beson at his residence at 912 Sevmour st. caught fire at about 9:30 Sunday morning, but the blaze was already partially extinguished when the department arrived to apply chemicals.

A chimney fire at the residence of Val Boyers, 118 Hancock st. brought out the chief's car at about 10:15 Sunday morning.

Arrangements are being made to provide for the overflow in case all cannot be accommodated at the tables. They will be served elsewhere and will take their seats afterward for the lecture.

APPLETON BIRDS WIN RIBBONS AT SHEBOYGAN SHOW

Chair City Exposition Attracts Number Of Local Chicken Fanciers

Appleton poultry fanciers won a substantial portion of the prizes at the annual poultry show in Sheboygan which closed on Sunday. Lester McCarter made a "clean sweep" of ribbons in the Golden Seabright bantam class and Walter Gmeiner won nearly all the prizes on his exhibits of Black Minorcas.

George Lausman's birds, in competition with about 100 classy Single Comb Rhode Island Reds, won first and third cock, third pullet and fourth cockerel. Anton Myse won a number of prizes with his Barred Plymouth Rocks.

About 800 birds were exhibited in the show, which was a great success. Sheboygan officials were pleased with the number of Appleton entries and have promised to send a large number of birds to the Appleton show which will be held in Armory G from Jan. 24 to 28 inclusive.

PARTY LINES TIGHTEN IN WAR DEBT TANGLE

ments and are in a position to render advice on the intricate details of the problem.

Not one of these economic experts has been called into consultation by the administration and the Democratic leaders are beginning to think the advice of these men is being tabooed solely because they are Democrats.

SCRAP OVER DIVISION

Some of these experts are authority for the statement that not a single new fact has been added since the subject was examined at the Paris peace conference and that except for the political jockeying between the European powers the whole thing is just where it was three years ago. It is pointed out that the French and British now are in agreement as to the amounts that Germany should pay, namely the twelve billion dollars of A and B bonds and that the true quarrel is over the division of the sums that Germany will be able to pay.

The idea that France will be able to collect any money at the point of the bayonet, is of course regarded as erroneous by both Democrats and Republicans who have studied the European reparations question but there is a tendency among some of the Democratic experts to be a little more sympathetic with the French position and a little less favorable to the British viewpoint. This may or may not be due to the fact that the French are sticking to the letter of the Versailles treaty and want reparations commission to function whereas the British have always endeavored to settle the matter at conferences of premiers and take the matter outside the jurisdiction of the commission.

EXPECTS BREAKS

As matters stand today it would not be surprising to see definite lines of cleavage develop in the senate not only over the reparations controversy but over the various plans for funding the Allied debt. Had the Republican administration given the Democrats representation on the funding commission as did Mr. Harding when he appointed Senator Underwood to the American delegation to the arms conference, the opportunity for partisan feeling would of course, have been lessened. As it is any agreements reached by the funding commission with the British and other governments will have to be submitted to congress where they must run the gauntlet of partisan fire just as did the Versailles treaty itself.

SEEK ROOMS FOR 900 VISITORS TO STATE MEETING

Master Builders Of Wisconsin Open Convention Here On Wednesday

Between 700 and 900 visitors are expected in Appleton on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to attend the eleventh annual convention of the Master Builders Association of Wisconsin. Convention sessions, opening at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, will be held in Eagle hall.

The local association has arranged for accommodations for the visitors in hotels here, at Neenah and at Menasha, but still is in need of rooms. 7 MEMBERS ADDED AT CONG'L CHURCH

Seven persons were received into membership at the First Congregational church at the quarterly communion service Sunday morning. Three entered on confession of faith and four by letter from other churches.

Dr. H. E. Peabody's communion address was on "The Gilded Cross." He told how the seemingly great sacrifices people sometimes make for the sake of others often become the source of embitterment. The cross depicted shame in the early days to those who were hung upon it, he said, but Christ's crucifixion makes it emblematic of the most heroic incident the world has ever known. It therefore deserves to be gilded as to day.

The Rev. C. Willard Cross used as his topic for the children's sermon, "The Story of a Strong Man."

Harold Fountain returned to St. Paul Sunday night to resume his studies at St. Paul seminary.

ANTI-UNSATISFIED BODY IS KEEPING CITY ATTRACTIVE

Kansas City Move Expected To Be Basis Of Nationwide Organization

Kansas City—What is expected to become a nationwide movement to make cities cleaner and more beautiful has its seed here in the organization of the Citizens Anti-Ugly Protective Association.

The organization, the first of its kind to be incorporated, is financed by seven public-spirited citizens. It aims to rid the city of all defacements on sidewalks, highways, alleys and buildings.

Already it has accomplished its first objective—removal of tattered placards and out-of-date advertising matter from walls and buildings.

The movement grew out of the efforts of Joseph Meinrath, retired business man, who spent several thousands of his own in an effort to beautify the city.

Meinrath's appeals to the public through newspaper articles, paid newspaper advertising and other publicity channels brought him six wealthy aids and lined up public sympathy on the side of the movement.

Then Meinrath and his aids incorporated their organization.

The first thing they did was to dig posters on poles. They prevailed on the mayor and police commissioner to enforce this ordinance.

Poles, walls and buildings were covered with posters, some of them years old. Police aid was enlisted to tear all of them down.

"We've accomplished our first aim," says Meinrath.

"Now we hope to get through the unclean old ordinance against placing certain ordinances which will rid boulevards of obnoxious signboards and residence streets of filling stations."

"What's the use of having fine boulevards and residence districts and statutory if they're not protected?" The word "ugly" well describes the evils we're fighting. And "anti-ugly" is a good nickname for the seven of us who're leading this war."

Women's Ideas Of Dress Make Frenchman Sad

New York—Monsieur Jacques Sourine, creator of fashions, poet of color and virtuoso of line, has come to America.

And like most creators Sourine is unhappy.

"For 30 years," moaned the distraught Frenchman as he paced up and down his room at the Pennsylvania Hotel, "I create. I make beauty. I send it out into the world. But what is it that comes back to me?"

"Woman?" he queried.

Monsieur pressed thin fingers to his temples.

"Yes, woman. Do you know what is the meaning of woman? She is a creature who every day, every hour, must have something different."

"And yet she is afraid to be different. I will explain."

MONSIEUR OUT OF LUCK
Monsieur pressed together an argumentative thumb and forefinger.

"A woman desires a frock. I say to her, 'Madame, I perceive you to be naive but a coquette without. I will make you a frock to suit your person, alter. I will make it with the empire waist line.'"

"But no," says she, 'nobody is wearing that now. I must have it below the hips.' And so I make it."

"I go down your Fifth Avenue and I see a hundred, a thousand, ten thousand women, all with the waist line below the hips."

Monsieur drew aside a curtain to reveal a number of smokestacks through the window.

"I tell you, I am not like that—I am not a factory. I am an artist—a poet. I cannot make one thing like another."

"The fat woman, the thin, the old, the young, the tall, the short, the bold, the demure, they all want to wear the same thing. To be sure, they won't wear it long, but while the style lasts they want to look as much alike as little peas in a pod."

"For 30 years I preach, 'Dress to suit your personality.'"

"But do they do it?"

"No."

MOST CHILD ILLS ARE TRACEABLE TO DISEASED TONSILS

Contagious Maladies Most Frequently Contracted in Schools

"Diseased tonsils are the cause of the greatest number of ills among children of the school age," said Miss Lucy Verity, school nurse for the First and Second District schools when asked what ailments were most prevalent in children of school age. "We find that the great majority of our underweight children are undernourished because of bad tonsils. All sorts of defects may be traced to this difficulty."

"Contagious diseases are really about the only children's maladies which come to the attention of a health physician," said Dr. William C. Felton, city health officer. "Right now, diphtheria is the most prevalent, but it usually shares honors with scarlet fever, whooping cough, measles and others that must either be quarantined or placarded. Most school children get the contagious diseases during the time they are in school, but it is hard to say which is most prevalent in normal times."

AGREE ON CAUSE
The opinion of Miss Verity concerning the trouble which tonsils give to school children was sustained by a prominent physician who said that a large number of children's disorders are traceable to diseased tonsils. He, too, mentioned the various communicable diseases which children seem to be bound to pick up in the course of their attendance at school.

Both Miss Verity and the practicing physician spoke of the great difficulty in getting people to send for a doctor when they suspect that a child has a disease which will mean that the entire family will be locked in or out. The strange thing about this situation is that the people where money and expense of sickness is a vital factor are usually the ones who cooperate most readily. The families where the mother does not want to be locked in for a time because it would keep her from parties and club meetings will usually try to put off sending for a doctor and will try home remedies on the child as long as possible.

In the cases where families really cannot afford to have tonsils removed, there are several funds on which the nurse can draw for help. Defective teeth and eyes are found to give some trouble. The school nurse is always anxious to discover the first case of any contagious disease in order to prevent its spread among the other children. If the first case can be isolated in time, epidemics can be prevented.

A FREE BOOKLET ON SCHOOL LUNCHES

Uncle Sam has issued a free booklet to aid mothers and teachers in preparing the right kind of food for school children.

This paper is going to do its share in this worthy and necessary undertaking by securing a copy for everyone who sends his name and address to our Washington Bureau.

It is highly important to give special care to this subject because over one-fifth of the entire population of the United States is in daily attendance in the schools of the nation.

To have an apt pupil it is necessary to have a healthy one. The child who is fed correctly will think clearly when he is grown.

Every mother and teacher should write today for a copy of this new booklet which contains various bills of fare for the school lunch, suggestions as to the proper method of packing, and recipes for sandwiches, cookies, salads and sweets. Fill out and mail the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

Anti-Health Intruders Put To Death By Sentinel At Gate Of Water Mains

City Chemist Has Many Ways
To Catch Germs Which Infest
City Water—Fluid Reaches
Consumer Almost-Germ-Free

According to the bacteriologic regulations of the state board of health, drinking water is safe even though the tests show that it contains 100 bacteria, some of which you ought to know have names like staphylococcus, planosarcina or micrococcus. Numberless tests of the drinking water, which in our most pessimistic moments we insist on calling "river water" show that in Appleton there are never more than one or two bacteria present and even these are unusual.

The city editor sent a reporter down to the pumping station to see "Bud" Hall about all the disease germs which he finds in drinking water and what he does to make them nice tame harmless little germs. "Bud" was very accommodating and took his visitor into the room where they have a thousand or more test tubes, some filled with purple and yellow gelatine-like stuff on which some of these germs can be urged to develop. He explained very carefully the process by which he can determine the exact content of the water, the type of germs, and so forth.

MUST WATCH CLOSELY
What the city editor really wanted and what the reporter did find out was that sometimes there are disease germs found in water even after it has been filtered to a certain point. These germs would be known to all of us, except doctors, nurses and chemists and a few other scientifically educated persons, as sewage germs.

These sewage germs are known professionally as B coli or bacillus coli. The group includes those which might produce typhoid fever, cholera and several stomach disorders. No effort is made to find out just which one of these bacteria is present but if the tests prove that there are B coli present, the water must be given more chlorine or some other chemical to isolate them.

People who object to using city water for drinking on the grounds that it is taken out of the river, should go to the filtering station and see the process necessary to make it ready for use. A trip to the station would make you think twice before you drank out of the old backyard pump.

BEST IN WINTER
All sorts of bacteria are found in the water as it is taken from the river and the number of minute organisms change with the season. In the winter, the river water is at its best, but in July and August it is at its worst and literally thousands of organisms are found in the unfiltered water. The percentage of bacteria is greatly reduced by the filtering plan but the adding of chemicals reduces the number to almost none. Complete records of the bacteria content of the water at different stages of filtration are kept by the city chemist.

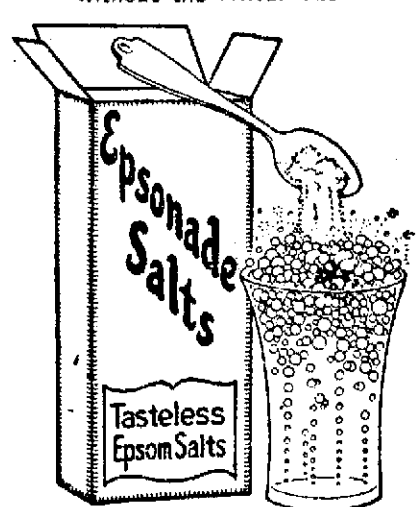

Besides the bacteriological study of the water, many other tests are necessary to give a clean water supply to the people. The water is tested for color because sometimes the vegetable matter growing in the river gives off considerable more color than at other times. It is tested for smell and for taste so that neither offensive odors nor tastes go out from the station into the mains.

WATCH ALL SEASONS
Turbidity tests also are necessary occasionally. All these conditions of the water vary with the season, the weather and the general conditions of climate. Each has to be met with chemical or bacteriological knowledge in order that the water supply may remain practically uniform. Occasionally tests of water are taken from various sections of the city to determine the condition of the water. Because of the standpipe, water conditions are about the same in all parts of the city, but sometimes in outlying districts where little water is used, it becomes necessary to open a hydrant and let a part of the water run out. All hydrants have to be tested regularly to determine the force of the water.

Journey Thru Mill 'On Paper' Plan of C. of C.

Unique use will be made by the chamber of commerce of the fiftieth anniversary publication of Kimberly-Clark company, a copy of which has been received by the chamber.

It has been placed on the reading table in the chamber of commerce office for inspection of the public. Tourists visiting the city often inquire about the papermills but do not have time to visit one and see the processes.

Future inquirers who cannot arrange a trip through the mills will be told to make their journey on paper perusing the pages of the book. The various stages from cutting wood in the forest to packing the finished product are shown in a series of pictures within the book, giving one a visual lesson in this great industry.

Awful headaches kept me in misery, my whole system was so topsy-turvy I just had to drag myself to work, and restful sleep was unknown to me."

"But my energy has been on the upgrade ever since I started taking Tanlac. My stomach troubles and sleeplessness are all gone, and I take great pleasure in my work. Tanlac sure will give a person a big advantage in health."

Can I Get Well?

"Can Chiropractic get me well?" This is the one question that interests every sick man, woman and child.

Modern Science offers indisputable proof that it makes no difference whether your sickness is one of the eye, ear, nose, throat, heart, lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, or any other part of your human machine. The CAUSE of sickness is always the same, namely, interference with the full flow of NERVE CURRENT by pressure of bones of the spine on delicate nerves, as they leave the spinal column.

Since Chiropractic has established the fact that the CAUSE of disease is nerve pressure obstructing the flow of vital current, then there can be only one logical method to get rid of disease—THE REMOVAL OF THE CAUSE.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by Rafael Sabatini

© RAFAEL SABATINI
ADAPT. NEA SERVICE, INC.

Galled by his defeat, and choosing to forget that his own conduct had invited it, he swore to teach the English a sharp lesson which they should remember.

He had succeeded so well in his intentions that he had aroused no suspicion until he sailed the fort at short range with a broadside of twenty guns.

As commander of the Barbados Militia, the place of Colonel Roshop was at the head of his scanty troops, in that fort which the Spanish guns were pounding into rubble.

Remembering it, he went off at the double, despite his bulk and the heat, his negroes trotted after him. Mr. Blood turned to Jeremy Pitt. He laughed grimly. "Now that," said he, "is what I call a timely interruption."

By this time the rebels-convict and slaves were coming in, in twos and threes, having abandoned their work upon finding themselves unguarded and upon scenting the general dismay.

The landing was contested by the militia and by every islander capable of bearing arms with the fierce resoluteness of men who knew that no quarter was to be expected in defeat.

All through the scorching afternoon the battle went on. By sunset two hundred and fifty Spaniards were masters of Bridgetown, the islanders were disarmed, and at Government House, Governor Steed—his gout forgotten in his panic—supported by Colonel Bishop and some lesser officers, was being informed by Don Diego, with an urbanity that was itself a mockery of the sum that would be required in ransom.

For a hundred thousand pieces of eight and fifty head of cattle, Don Diego would forbear from reducing the place to ashes.

Mr. Blood, greatly daring, ventured down at dusk into the town.

What he saw was fetching him in haste and white-faced out of that hell again, when in a narrow street a girl hurried into him. By sunset her unbound hair streaming behind her as she ran. After her, laughing and cursing in a breath, came a heavy-booted Spaniard. Almost he was upon her, when suddenly Mr. Blood got in his way. The doctor had taken a sword from a dead man's side some little time before and armed himself with it against an emergency.

As the Spaniard checked in anger and surprise, he caught in the dusk the livid gleam of that sword which Mr. Blood had quickly unsheathed. "Ah, perro ingles!" he shouted, and flung forward to his death.

"It's hoping I am yere in a fit state to meet your Maker," said Mr. Blood, and ran him through the body. He did the thing skillfully with the command skill of swordsman and surgeon.

Mr. Blood swung to the girl, who leaped panting and sobbing against a wall. He caught her by the wrist. White-faced, physically sick, Mr. Blood dragged her almost at a run up the hill toward Colonel Bishop's house. He knocked, but had to knock again and yet again before he was answered. Then it was by a voice from a window above.

"Who is there?" The voice was Miss Bishop's, a little tremulous, but unmistakably her own. At the sound of her voice, the girl Mr. Blood had rescued peered up through the gloom. "Arabella!" she called. "It is I, Mary Trill!"

After a brief pause the door opened wide. Beyond it in the wide hall stood Miss Arabella, a slim, virginal figure in white mysteriously revealed in the gleam of a single candle which she carried.

Mr. Blood strode in followed by his distraught companion, who, falling upon Arabella's slender bosom, surrendered herself to a passion of tears. But he wasted no time.

"Whom have you here with you? What servants?" he demanded sharply.

The only male was James, an old negro groom. "The very man," said Blood. "Did him get out horses. Then away with you to Speightstown, or ever farther north, where you will be safe. Here you are in dreadful danger."

The horses came at last—four of them, for in addition to James who was to act as her guide, Miss Bishop had her woman, who was not to be left behind.

Mr. Blood lifted the slight weight of Mary Trill from her horse, then turned to say goodby to Miss Bishop, who had already mounted. The last he heard of them was Mary Trill's childlike voice calling back on a quavering note—

"I shall never forget what you did, Mr. Blood. I shall never forget."

CHAPTER IX

There were, when the purple gloom of the tropical night descended upon the Caribbean, not more than ten men on guard aboard the Chico Llagas. The Spanish gunner and his crew—who had so nobly done their duty and insured the easy victory of the day—were feasting on the gun deck upon the wine and the fresh meats fetched out to them from shore. Above, two sentinels only kept vigil, at stem and stern. Two wharries under cover of the darkness came gliding from the wharf, with well-greased rowlocks, to bring up in silence under the great ship's quarter.

From the stern gallery still hung the ladder by which Don Diego had descended to the boat that had taken him ashore. The sentry on guard in the stern, coming presently round the gallery, was suddenly confronted by the black shadow of a man standing before him at the head of the ladder.

The wooden taffrail was a low one, and the Spaniard was taken completely by surprise. Save for the splash he made as he struck the water, narrowly missing one of the crowded boats that waited under the counter, not a sound announced his misadventure.

"Whist!" hissed Mr. Blood to his waiting rebel-convicts. "Come on, now, and without noise." Within five minutes they had swarmed aboard, the entire twenty of them overflowing from that narrow gallery and crouching on the quarter-deck itself. Lights showed ahead. Under the great lantern in the prow they saw the black figure of the other sentry, pacing on the fore-castle.

Crouching low, they glided, noiseless as shadows, to the quarter-deck rail, and thence slipped without sound down into the water. Two thirds of them were armed with muskets, some of which they had found in the over-seer's house and others supplied from the secret hoard that Mr. Blood had so laboriously assembled against the day of escape. The remainder were equipped with knives and cutlasses.

Mr. Blood himself, crept forward with two companions, leaving the others in the charge of that Nathaniel Hagthorpe whose sometime commission in the King's Navy gave him the best title to that office.

Mr. Blood's absence was brief. When he rejoined his comrades there was no watch above the Spaniards' decks. When their quarters were invaded and they found themselves surrounded by a score of wild, hairy, half-naked men, the Spaniards could not believe their eyes.

And then, from out of this uncouth pack of savages that beset them, stepped a slim, tall fellow with light-blue eyes in a tawny face. He addressed them in the purest Castilian.

"You will save yourselves pain and trouble by regarding yourselves as my prisoners, and suffering your selves to be quietly bestowed out of harm's way."

Thereupon these gentlemen of Spain were induced without further trouble beyond a musket prod or two to drop through a scuttle to the deck below.

It was soon after sunrise that the rebel-convict who paced the quarter-deck in Spanish corselet and head piece, a Spanish musket on his shoulder, announced the approach of a boat. It was Don Diego de Espi, now a Valdez coming aboard with four great treasure-chests, containing each twenty-five thousand pieces of eight, the ransom delivered to him at dawn by Governor Steed. He was accompanied by his son, Don Estaban, and by six men who took the oars.

Don Diego mounted the ladder and stepped upon the deck, alone and entirely unsuspecting. Before he could even look around, and survey this guard drawn up to receive him, a tall, over-the-head with a castan lar efficiently handled by Hagthorpe put him to sleep without the least fuss.

He was carried away to his cabin, whilst the treasure-chests, handled by the men he had left in the boat, were being hauled to the deck. That being satisfactorily accomplished, Don Estaban and the fellows who had manned the boat came up the ladder, one by one, to be handed with the same quiet efficiency, who had already mounted. Arnold Johnson and His Orchestra pick "You Remind Me of My Mother" (Introducing "Till My Luck Comes Rolling Along" by George M. Cohan), and "When the Leaves Come Tumbling Down," and mighty strong and bizarre fox-trots he makes out of these song-hits. This is good dance playing, full but free, modern but musically and always touched by the personal interpretation of Arnold Johnson himself.

A Little Knowledge Of Little Things Saves A Lot Of Time In The Home

Here Are Some Suggestions Which Will Save The Home Keeper A Lot Of Worry And Tribulation

Here are a number of "hunches" from the Japanese number of the Designer which most housewives will welcome. It is suggested that this article be kept for reference because of the fund of valuable information that it contains.

To keep the kitchen sink fresh and without odor from the waste pipe use cooking soda and hot water poured in to the pipe once or twice a week.

To remove the cork from a bottle if there is neither knife nor corkscrew at hand, stick two safety pins diagonally through the cork opposite each other. Pull on the upper part of the pins and the cork comes out very readily.

If grease is spilled on the stove, sprinkle with salt. This will prevent any odor of burning grease.

Have you noticed that your oil mop has an inclination to become matted? If, after using it you will brush it with an old whisk broom instead of shaking it, the mop will always be clean and fluffy.

Always place a folded towel in the bottom of your dish pan when washing fine glass or china. It saves breakage.

An ordinary steel nut-pick is a handy kitchen tool. It can be used to remove the tops from milk bottles and to remove the rubber rings from jars of peanut butter.

Old whisk brooms, when the worn part is cut off squarely, make splendid sink-brushes.

Save all the waxed paper that crackers and bread come wrapped in to roll out pie crusts or biscuits. This saves washing the clean board.

To prevent oil from dripping on the table cloth from the pitcher, rub a little butter on the lip of the pitcher.

Do not forget that paper absorbs juices. Therefore always remove paper from meat before putting away.

Keep a bottle of gasoline handy to use in cleaning the bathtub and wash basin. Saturate a cloth and wipe them. You will never use scouring cleanser after trying this.

CARE OF FURNITURE
Paper stuck fast to the polished top of a table may easily be removed by putting a few drops of oil on the paper and rubbing gently with a soft cloth.

Where walnut or fumed oak furniture has become scratched, rub on a little iodine and polish as usual. The scratch will hardly be noticeable. Vinegar is excellent for washing wood work instead of soap and will not injure it.

COOKING
If the soup is too salty, add a couple of slices of raw potato. Remove after boiling a few minutes, and the soup will be just right.

To prevent brown sugar from getting hard, place a sliced apple in the jar.

A pinch of salt added to coffee before it begins to percolate will give a delicious flavor and prevent the cheapest coffee from tasting bitter.

To sweeten any kind of frying fat cook fresh sliced potatoes in it until they are done. The fat will become sweet, no matter how greasy it was.

Milk will scorch less easily and the pan is more quickly cleaned after washing if it is rinsed with cold water before the milk is heated.

To clean dried currants, sprinkle the fruit with flour, put into a colander and rub the currants vigorously. This separates the stems and they will come through the holes in the colander.

Hams that have been cut and put away often mold. To prevent this spread hard over the lean part and put away as usual. When you want to cut another slice you will find the meat fresh and free from mold.

Soak all the jelly from the bottom of the glass that no longer tempts the appetite. Put all these little bits together in a sauce-pan with a small amount of water and melt. Mold the jelly in a jelly glass and it will be as appetizing as fresh jelly.

One-third more juice can be extracted from lemons if they are put in a hot oven or a stove for two or three minutes or submerged in hot water before using them.

So often in cutting cheese, especially rich cheese, it sticks to the knife-blade and spoils a nice slice. To prevent this, put the knife-blade in boiling water just before cutting, and the slices can then be cut as thick or thin as desired and not crumble or break.

To poach eggs successfully grease the pan, have the water boiling, stir vigorously and drop egg into the middle of the swirl. Eggs never separate when prepared this way.

To prepare baked apples take out the cores with an apple corer and fill the cavities with peanut butter, sugar and bake. When done place a marshmallow on top of each apple and return to the oven and brown slowly.

Use a fork to thicken your gravies and you will never have trouble with lumping.

After grating cheese or lemons, a very stiff bristled brush, either dry or dampened, thoroughly cleanses the grater.

Sweeten whipped cream by adding a teaspoon of strained honey instead of sugar. It not only gives the cream a delightful flavor but causes it to stay whipped a longer time.

In making an cake where soda is used and you find you have no sour milk, add one-quarter cup vinegar to sweet milk and you will have the same result.

If sour cream is all you have for your morning's coffee, pour the coffee into the cream instead of the cream into the coffee and it will not curdle.

To melt chocolate, put a small lump of butter in the pan before adding the chocolate. Then the pan can be placed directly over the gas flame and the mixture will melt immediately without burning.

Before using new tin, grease well with lard and put in the oven until the lard is melted. Allow the grease to harden on the tin and wipe off. You will then have a tin pan which will wear as well as any of the expensive metals on the market.

To prevent juices from running out of the pies, take a strip of clean white cloth and bind it around the edge of the pie before putting it in the oven. When the pie is cooked the cloth is very easily removed.

When pop-corn has been exposed to the air and will not pop, put it in water and let it stand for two or three hours. Let it dry thoroughly, for a day or two and you will be astonished how it will pop.

To measure one-half cup of butter or lard quickly and accurately, fill the measuring cup half full of water, then put on the shortening until the water comes up to the top of the cup. Drain off the water.

CLOTHES

When buttons pull off and tear the material, place a small piece of muslin over the rent and mend neatly. Then place a small button under the material and sew the button back again. It will not pull through again.

To run ribbon through a baby's dress or any casing, use a small safety-pin, or better still a man's collar pin.

Don't discard your husband's or brother's sailor trousers. By combining with silk they make a very serviceable and attractive one-piece dress. As they have only one seam in each leg they make a two-piece skirt.

By scalloping the bottom the length is secured without facing. Instead of using plain ribbon for elastic straps take a narrow piece of elastic and stretch it out tight. Then sew the ribbon on it and the straps will not slip off your shoulders.

If you once use a discarded electric-light bulb to dry your stockings, you will not go back to your old darning-egg again.

A strip of adhesive tape around your forefinger when sewing will prevent the roughness caused by pricking the finger.

STAINS

To remove machine oil from white silk wet a cloth in coal oil and touch the spot with it, no trace of the oil will remain.

To remove ink stains from colored cotton cloth without injuring material, mix dry mustard and water to a paste. Spread over the spot and allow to remain fifteen minutes, wash and these well and the stain will disappear.

On a sandpaper and a little elbow grease will take the brown spots from your kitchen sink, when soap and cleaning powder fail.

CORN MEAL BATTER BREAD
By Bertha E. Shapleigh

1 cup white or yellow corn meal
2 cups hot milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking powder

Put the hot milk over the corn and salt. Let stand until cool. Add the butter or bacon fat, melted, the eggs well beaten and lastly sift in the baking powder.

Beat for a few seconds and turn into a well-greased, deep baking dish. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate fire. Hot oven. Serve from the dish in which it is baked.

This bread is very good with meat and gravy instead of potatoes or rice.

FRUIT AND NUT PASTE

1 lb. dates
1 lb. figs
1/2 lb. English walnut meats
Confectioners' sugar

Wash and stone dates, put dates, figs and nuts through a meat chopper. Mix thoroughly, place on a board covered thickly with sugar, and knead until the mixture is smooth and may be rolled out. Roll to one-fourth in thickness, cut with a small round cutter, or with a knife, into fancy shapes. Roll thoroughly in sugar, and pack away for several days to dry.

This is a good confection to serve at dinner or to put into a box of sweets.

IF YOU ARE WELL-BRED
You know that as soon as you become engaged to a man, etiquette demands that his parents call immediately upon yours. In the most correct circles this call is always made within 24 hours after the announcement.

If the young man happens to be an orphan his nearest relative should make the call. Even deep mourning does not excuse his family from this social obligation.

The Chinese never boil, but roast eggs.

CREPE HOUSEROBE

BY MARY BROOKS PICKEN

So many beautiful materials are to be had for house robes that they are lovelier than ever. To be most enjoyed, they should be cozy, comfortable, loose, easy to slip into, and have nothing to fasten.

The smart robe illustrated is as exquisite in color as in softness. The outer material is green crepe satin, more quiet in color than reseda, the sheen of the satin subduing rather than intensifying the color.

The inside, which carries a greater responsibility than the mere lining, is of orchid color albatross, quilted to a downy soft wool lining. This quilted material, which may be purchased by the yard is very soft and very light in weight, so it is ideal for the purpose. The inside and outside are held together by lazy-daisy stitches done in soft yellow or green tulle ribbon, the stitches being few or many as one desires.

Some prefer to use the quilted albatross for the outside with a soft silk lining inside. Smart effects are attained either way, the colors of the season making possible many unusual and delightfully pleasing combinations.

A slip of adhesive tape around your forefinger when sewing will prevent the roughness caused by pricking the finger.

To remove machine oil from white silk wet a cloth in coal oil and touch the spot with it, no trace of the oil will remain.

To remove ink stains from colored cotton cloth without injuring material, mix dry mustard and water to a paste. Spread over the spot and allow to remain fifteen minutes, wash and these well and the stain will disappear.

On a sandpaper and a little elbow grease will take the brown spots from your kitchen sink, when soap and cleaning powder fail.

DRESS HINTS

FOR THE WEEK END
A little sewing case of leather, which may be readily tucked into the traveling bag, makes a worth while gift for the woman who is popular at week-end parties.

FOR DANCING
Shimmering satin dresses will continue to be used for dancing frocks throughout the winter. Favored colors for evening are flame, geranium, peach, lemon yellow and almond green. White also is in high favor.

BOUDOIR CAP
A perky little boudoir cap may be fashioned easily of organdie with an upstanding cuff across the front of silver cloth.

YOUTHFUL APRONS
For the youngster who likes to borrow a bit of pie crust and perform her own experiments in the kitchen, black saten will make a serviceable apron. Flowers cut from bright colored chamois are appliqued to form diminutive pockets.

Found in France
Years ago, in my search for beauty, I found in France a clay. Few women used it, but those women's fine complexions were the marvels of their day.

It was a crude and muddy clay, like many use today. The fame of clay has spread to countless women it is bringing new beauty and new bloom. No woman who owns clay knows her beauty possibilities.

But few women know what I know—that a new type clay has been perfected which brings multiplied results.

White super-clay
Natural muddy clays are now crude and out of date. Certain scientists, after 20 years of study, have perfected a new type clay.

As Barrett came out of Myra's little house a chill wind from the river, swept him with sobering touch. Curiously, he seemed to see himself standing at the brink of deep waters into which only a willpower not his own had kept him from plunging.

Responsibilities, Myra had said. "Hiduous, relentless word! That's what his whole life was—responsibilities. Who cared about him? Anita took the money he made as a matter of course. She hardly knew, he jeered in his bitterness, whether he was an architect or a lawyer. All she cared about was her Literary Society, her Political Equality League, her Bridge Club, her correct and conventional entertainments, her perfect clothes, her—yes, Anita did care for the children. Given her home, her checkbook and her children, he mused resentfully, what matter whether he was or whether she ever saw him again!

He wondered if there would be even a ripple in the household when he left. When he left—There were the responsibilities again. His marriage promise—for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer—Ah, they had been happy when he was poorer. What wouldn't he give now if Anita would come to him and say, just once, as she used to, "The money's the last thing a woman cares about, John. I want you to love me. I love you. I want nothing else—but you."

He found he was walking in a strange neighborhood of little cheap houses. People's homes. Home—

He leaped on a car that would take him in the direction of home. He would talk to Anita, make one more attempt to avoid tragedy, although his mind persisted in piling up a case of irresistible strength in favor of the tragic step.

He found Anita alone, by the window, deep in brooding, her attitude expressive of weariness that it's "Tied him like a knife. At his first word she started and as though she had denied and went on. "I've worked like a dog and I've made good. But when I fall short of anything, how you flay me! I have big faults, God knows, but even the smallest irritates you, makes you forget years of doing my best—cigarette ashes on the rug—the slamming of a door—Oh, my God, Anita, it's married hell!"

Women Pay But They Know What They Are Paying

BY MARIAN HALE

Does the woman pay? "Every human being pays," says Burton Rascoe, literary critic, columnist and author, "and pay and pay!"

"Finally, everyone declares bankruptcy and the undertaker is called in as receiver."

"The new-born infant's anguished yell marks indignation on his first glance at the long account immediately presented."

"However, men usually pay in lump sums—roughly, equal to their respective weekly stipend."

"Women pay in small change."

EIGHT TO EIGHTEEN
"A man works by the day, woman, by the hour and minute."

"A day to a man is eight hours, to a woman, eighteen."

"Man can reckon his achievements in the same way—in the lump."

"Financially speaking, women may not seem to pay as much as men. That's because they haven't got it to hand over. It's been held out on them."

"Necessary, indispensable services usually are poorly remunerated. They have to be performed, so they don't have to be liberally rewarded. They'll get done, anyhow. They must."

"It's all a question of bookkeeping. The books are cooked by the cashier."

MORALS AND CAKE
"The question of morals is more difficult."

"A man's idea of morality is a device whereby he may have his cake and eat somebody else's."

"This sounds as if it ought to be possible, but it isn't. While you're eating the other fellow's, he probably is nibbling at yours."

"So a man never knows where he is."

"A woman does. Even if she's ruined, she has the mental satisfaction of knowing it. She can say, 'Well, that's that,' and remain calm."

"But how does a man know whether his 'honor' is safe or not when he's put it in his wife's name?"

"His condition's pitiable. All he can do is to write letters to the papers about the way girls are bobbing their hair and wearing goshawks unbuckled."

"This is one reason why women are observed to exchange strange sudden glances over a man's head, and bite their lips to subdue a smile."

"On the whole, the man gets the worst of it. But as long as he doesn't realize it, perhaps he's the better off."

"Here, again, the paving becomes a matter of bookkeeping, and there's no impartial appraiser to fix the valuation of the intangible assets!"

MARRIAGE A LA MODE
In China, a bride never has young girls for attendants. She is always waited upon by older matrons or spinsters.

Likewise, she never wears white, as that is the color of mourning. Yellow, the national color, is the favorite color for brides.

At the wedding ceremony and the feast afterward the bride speaks only when addressed by her husband or by his parents. She takes no initiative in conversation.

FOR SCHOOL MISS

The school girl's costume is receiving a little consideration now from Dame Fashion.

A smart frock that allows for absolute freedom and still has very good lines is this harmonium dress, of blue trimmed with rows of white braid.

The full skirt forms its own bloomers. What child would not appreciate those roomy pockets? And what is more typically youthful than the neat sailor collar?

My Gift to You
The white facial clay I use
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am telling women, as a duty, the secrets of my gush beauty. I am bringing them, at little cost, the very helps I use.

I am no longer young. For over 30 years I have been a stage star. Yet I am still a famous beauty, playing young girls' parts. And I look like a girl of 19.

This is to tell you of my chief beauty help.

Found in France
Years ago, in my search for beauty, I found in France a clay. Few women used it, but those women's fine complexions were the marvels of their day.

It was a crude and muddy clay, like many use today. The fame of clay has spread to countless women it is bringing new beauty and new bloom. No woman who owns clay knows her beauty possibilities.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay
At all drugstores—50c and $1 per tube

I and my friends have long obtained this clay. Now I have ranged with famous experts to have it made for you.

It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Clay. If you use clay, this new clay will amaze you. Nothing ever known in clays brings comparable results.

If you don't use clay, Youth Clay will be a revelation. In a short half hour it brings a new complexion. The average woman seems to drop ten years with one application.

Pimples and blackheads go, wrinkles disappear. The skin becomes soft, firm, rosy, rich in youthful bloom. The results at first seem almost unbelievable.

I invite all women to try Youth Clay. Do this to see how beautiful you can look.

Adventures Of The Twins

Fairy Wand Is Recovered

The minute Mr. Flippety-Flop landed on the Beammy Gleam Star with his enormous shoes, he spied the very person he was hunting.

That person was Flap Doodle, the mischievous fairy who had stolen the Fairy Queen's wand and who had caused everybody so much trouble.

Flap Doodle spied his visitor at the same time.

"See, see, where'd you get such big feet?" asked Flap Doodle.

"Where'd you get such big ears?" asked Flippety-Flop.

"I fly with 'em," answered Flap Doodle.

"So do I," replied Flippety-Flop.

"That is my feet carry me any place I wish to go—which is just as good."

"Nice day," said Flap Doodle.

"Pretty nice," said Flippety-Flop.

And then everything was pretty quiet for a little while as it always is when folks can't think of anything.

Suddenly Flippety-Flop pointed up in the air. "Oh, look," he cried quickly.

Flap Doodle never suspected a thing and rolled up his eyes.

"Where?" he cried. "I don't see anything."

"Up there! Just keep on looking," said Flippety-Flop.

While Flap Doodle was looking, two little patches in Mr. Flippety-Flop's big shoes opened and out stole Nancy and Nick like little pussy cats. They'd been hiding there, you know.

The Twins tried up to Flap Doodle, still trying to see what Flippety-Flop was pointing at, and before you could say "boon," they had grabbed the wand out of his hands and run for dear life back into Mr. Flippety-Flop's big shoes.

Down to the earth stode Flippety-Flop, straight to the Fairy Queen's palace.

Prove splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days.

Within 48 hours the men had costed tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 25 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-lasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Briscoe, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

OSHKOSH BOLTS VALLEY WHEEL; JOINS STATE LEAGUE

Sawdust City Baseball Club Now In Circuit With Appleton Team

Six Cities in Wisconsin Ball Organization Result of Sunday Meeting of Magnates in Conway Hotel

Oshkosh threw its lot with the Wisconsin State Baseball league for the season of 1923 and thus marked possibly the beginning of the doom of the Fox River Valley league and the end of the baseball war which turned eastern and northern Wisconsin topsy-turvy in 1922.

Oshkosh, member of the valley league, was officially made a member of the Wisconsin State league at the special meeting held in the Conway hotel Sunday afternoon at which representatives from Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Marinette-Menominee and Green Bay were present. Manager Herzog of the Manitowish club, who is ill in his home, was represented by proxy by T. E. McGilgan, Menasha, president of league.

SIX WHEEL AFFAIR

The joining of Oshkosh makes the state league a six wheel affair. Marinette and Menominee having joined as one club last fall. Other cities which made overtures to the state league, said to be Fond du Lac, Sheboygan and Kaukauna, will be given a chance to enter the league although the magnates prefer to play through the next season with six clubs.

There was some desire for Sheboygan's entry and Oshkosh intimated that it would like Fond du Lac in the wheel but the magnates were not over-anxious to have Kaukauna in the circuit. Kaukauna and Fond du Lac didn't draw well last year and the delegates felt that it would be better to continue with only the best cities of the state as members.

OSHKOSH ENTERS MEETINGS

President McGilgan announced at the opening of the meeting that it was purely informal and was for the purpose of taking up the report of G. A. Walter, Green Bay, chairman of the rules and regulations committee, but due to Mr. Walter's illness the report was deferred. However, when the Oshkosh delegates made their presence known and were admitted to the meeting, President McGilgan announced that the meeting would have to take on an official aspect and ordered Secretary G. W. Calhoun to call the roll.

The Oshkosh club was represented by Fred Beebe, the 1923 manager and principal owner of the Sawdust City nine and Thomas Brady, stockholder of the club. Manager Beebe declared that he had been chosen to succeed Frank Steinhilber.

If the Wisconsin State league will conduct its 1923 business with the same preciseness as it took up the Oshkosh matter, nothing but a banner year is in store for the wheel.

NAME BEEBE DIRECTOR

President McGilgan put up the Oshkosh application and it was accepted unanimously. The next step was to elect Manager Beebe as a director of the league. Manager Beebe is a veteran ball player. His experience has been in the big leagues. In the old V. I. League, and last year he pitched with the Wichita, Kan. club.

It was also decided to choose a new committee on forming rules and regulations for the league. Harry St. John, manager of the Appleton club, was chosen chairman by President McGilgan. Other members of the committee were named as follows:

MEET SUNDAY
Arthur Juttner, Marinette and Menominee; Fred Beebe, Oshkosh; G. A. Walter, Green Bay; Jack Herzog, as center.

INTERLAKES PLAY HORTONVILLE HERE

The Interlake Pulp and Paper Co. basketball team will play the Hortonville Merchants in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Tuesday evening. The contest is to start at 8:15. The Merchants have a formidable organization, capable of giving the best teams a good battle.

They will line up with the following: Oik, Dahreiner, and Knutzen, forwards; Murch, Matthews and Oik, guards; Rosenthal, center.

The pulpman announced Day, Jens and Rock as forwards; Kessler and Gardner as guards and Rushton as center.

FORESTERS SHOOT 17,403 PINS IN FOUR CONTESTS

Leos Get Highest Team Score With Total Of 2,355—Columbias Absent, Lose

Members of the Catholic Order of Foresters league topped 17,403 pins, the exact total of four matches rolled Sunday afternoon on the Elk alleys, including one postponed contest.

The Leos shot 2,315 pins for the highest team score. The De Soto quint annexed three games as the result of the absence of the Columbias who were credited with the usual 135 average.

Time To Bury Axe

BY OBSERVER

The alignment of Oshkosh with the Wisconsin State league will give the hot store league plenty of gossip between now and the opening of the end of the baseball war in Wisconsin.

The Fox River Valley league is left in a crippled condition as the result of the amputation of Oshkosh. There are still three cities left, Kaukauna, Sheboygan and Fond du Lac. The league now is just like a chair with one of its legs missing. It's true that the Kluwin wheel could take in other cities, even organize clubs but that would be folly—the same as cutting one another's throat and certainly would hurt baseball. All the baseball magnates know this and for that reason a rival wheel hardly will be continued.

Sheboygan and Kaukauna are the only cities outside of the state wheel that are worth while from the standpoint of baseball towns and from the eyes of the box office. Sheboygan, it is understood will go wherever Manitowish is because these two towns are the biggest rivals on the diamond in the state.

Oshkosh wants Fond du Lac and with proper organization Fondy can be revived easily and be given a place on the ball map. An eight club baseball league, therefore is the logical thing. The fans do not want to see strife and a well balanced wheel, well managed ought to bring out the best in the sport.

Kaukauna is a small city and it is a hard job to get the crowds which will finance teams able to play on even terms with its big neighbors.

MARQUETTE PLAYS AUGUSTANA TONIGHT

Milwaukee — Marquette university basketball squad is scheduled to meet Augustana college of Rock Island, Ill., here Monday night. The Hilltop team will appear in three games here this week. After the Augustana game, the Marquette squad will play Lombard college here on Friday and Saturday nights.

Augustana is credited with having a fast squad and Marquette does not look for an easy victory. The Hilltoppers will play a return game with the Rock Island team at the Illinois school in February when the trip for the Creighton games will be made.

Beloit college had been scheduled to play Marquette here last Saturday night, but when officials wrote the down states in regard to a choice of officials, a reply was received to the effect that no game would be played.

Proving That Four Men Can't Beat Five Girls

An exciting match game was rolled on the Eagle alleys Sunday afternoon between four men and the F. O. E. Gris team which went to the latter, two out of three and by a narrow margin of 18 for the totals. The girls are hitting the wood for good counts but are unable to find any girls.

In the vicinity to roll with. The F. O. E. Gris are expected to go to the state tourney at Green Bay in an effort to win some cash and honors.

BADGERS TO PLAY KAUKAUNA HIGH FRIDAY

The Y. M. C. A. Badgers played two basketball games last week. On Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. they were defeated by the Interlake team by a score of 19 to 17. The Badgers were outweighed 30 pounds to a man but held the lead until the final minute of play. On Friday evening the team defeated Mulford clothing team at Kaukauna auditorium by a score of 48 to 16. Dan Conley, who starred in offensive play in both games, shot 13 baskets at Kaukauna. C. Thompson featured with his guarding. Next Friday evening the Badgers will play Kaukauna high school at Kaukauna.

WINTER SPORTS MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

The big ravine in Pierce park was a mecca for skiers Sunday afternoon. The steep hills provide a really excellent slide for the long skates and some expert work was demonstrated. As many as two dozen boys and girls were using the slides at the same time on Sunday.

The steep bluffs near the Altration plant and near Riverside cemetery also were alive with young people on skis and with sleds. Winter sports are more popular this year than ever before, probably because of the mild weather which makes for comfort.

LAWRENCE TO PLAY RIPPON THIS WEEK

With the opening of school Monday, Coach H. D. McChesney planned to gather his athletes for the first basketball practice since the students left for the holiday vacations.

There is still some question about the scheduled game between Lawrence and Augustana college, which, according to an earlier announcement, was to be played here Tuesday night. Augustana will meet Marquette Monday night in Milwaukee. It is understood that Rippon also looked Augustana for Tuesday night.

Lawrence college will open its Little Five campaign Friday night when it invades Rippon. The Redmen, like Lawrence, have topped all of their preliminary affairs and the real test will come Friday.

Appleton Girl Smashes Menasha Bowling Record

Appleton girls are not only smashing records on the home alleys but they can do the trick also when visiting outside floors. This was demonstrated by Miss Dorothy Ganzon of this city in a three game match with a Menasha quintet at the Menasha alleys Sunday afternoon. Miss Ganzon not only rolled the highest score for her own team but smashed the record for women's scores bowled this year on the Menasha alleys when she topped over 223 pins in the final tilt. Her other marks were 161 and 182.

Miss Ganzon is a member of the F. O. E. Girls team of Appleton. Other Appletonians who rolled Sunday at Menasha were B. Welshous, Miss G. Schroeder, Dr. Dumke and A. James.

LITTLE CHUTE GIANTS WHIP GREEN BAY TEAM

The Little Chute Giants took two games out of three from the Collier Filvers of Green Bay Sunday afternoon on the Hoffman alleys at Little Chute. Tracy of the Baymen, rolled 204 in his first game and his total for the evening was 605, the best score of the match.

APPLETON AND MENASHA QUINTS IN BOOSTER TILTS

Games Rolled On Arcade Alleys To Aid Coming State Bowling Tourney

The first booster games to stimulate the attendance from the Fox river valley at the state bowling convention at Green Bay was held in Appleton when three teams of this city and three quintets of Menasha engaged in a wood spilling battle Sunday night on the Arcade floors. When the smoke cleared away Appleton stars had a slight advantage.

Hoppy's Wieners covered themselves with glory when they spilled the pins to the tune of 900 and more in each game. The Hopps' total was 2,729 and only 22 pins more than the first game of the tournament.

The Menasha alleys shot the best game of the evening, getting a total of 402 with one of the games reading 243.

ARCADES WIN TWICE

The Arcades won three games from the Menasha Clothes Shop. Stoebauer of the Appleton quint began what looked like a "record" game when he spilled 242 pins in the first game.

However, the next matches were only 161 and 156. Hoffman Construction Co. was the only quintet that did not fare so well. The Menasha Banta team No. 1 won two games. This was another close battle with the games being decided by a small number of pins.

TO PLAY IN MENASHA

Another triple booster match will be played at Menasha, next Sunday night. In the near future Al. Jens of the Arcade floors and H. Gosset of Menasha will arrange a series of match games to boost the national tournament at Milwaukee.

PROVIDE RIBBONS FOR WINNERS IN C. OF C. CORN SHOW

Speakers And Movie May Be Added To Program—Ziegler Is Chairman

Ribbons as well as cash and merchandise premiums will be awarded winners in the chamber of commerce corn show Jan. 24 to 28 in the armory, following a decision of the show committee at a meeting Saturday afternoon at the office of the chamber.

Fred Ziegler was elected permanent chairman of the committee and Mrs. Kathryn Gens as secretary. John Goodland presided temporarily until the committee became organized.

It is possible also that one or two speakers and some motion pictures will be included in the corn show program, if they can be obtained from Madison. The exhibit is held jointly with the annual poultry show and all who attend both events would be able to share in the program. Mr. Ziegler and Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the chamber were instructed to obtain the speakers and films.

Corn exhibits will be left in place Sunday, Jan. 28, as well as during the week, as the poultry show continues through that day. It was decided. Entries will be limited to residents within a radius of 30 miles of Appleton.

Efforts will be made to secure as judge of the corn show one of the state agricultural experts at Madison. Prizes amounting to $175 are to be given.

Those attending the committee meeting were Mr. Ziegler, Howard Jamison, George Schaefer, Henry Culbertson, Malachi Ryan, A. O. Mys, A. J. Shannon, Mr. Goodland and Mrs. Gens.

TINSELED CARDS ARE HELD AT P. O.

Owners May Call For New Years Cards Sent In Violation Of Rules

Although it has been quite generally known that tinsel postcards have been barred from the United States mails for a long time on account of their harmful qualities, there are still some patrons who persist in mailing these cards.

A large quantity of New Year postcards decorated with tinsel have been received at the postoffice and cannot be dispatched or delivered. They will be held for a few days in order that the senders may call for them. If not called for, they will be destroyed.

Most stores have refused to handle this class of postcards. The purchasers probably were instructed to enclose the cards in envelopes, but they neglected to seal the envelopes and attach a two cent stamp, as is required for that class of mail.

OFFER REWARD TO FIND STOLEN WAUKESHA CAR

A reward is in store for the finder of a Chevrolet coupe that was stolen on Dec. 31 at Waukesha, according to notification received by Appleton police department. The car bears a 1923 Wisconsin license number 91555. The department frequently receives notices of stolen cars, some of which have been recovered here from time to time.

SUGAR COMPANY SEEKS 1923 BEET CONTRACTS

Representatives of Green Bay Sugar company of Green Bay have been busy in the county last week lining up the farmers for the 1923 sugar beet crop. The number of farmers raising this vegetable on a large scale has been increasing from year to year. The yield last year, although not a bumper crop, has encouraged more farmers to enter this field and the experienced growers have increased their acreage. The Green Bay company maintains several shipping stations in this county.

STRANGE MONSTERS CAST UP BY SEA DURING QUAKES

By Associated Press
Lima, Peru.—The tidal waves which recently devastated parts of the coast of Chile cast upon the beach at the same time a strange denizen of the deep whose like has not been seen in these waters in many years. It would appear to be a cross between a whale and a turtle.

Fishermen at Lurin, 25 miles from Lima, reported a huge cetacean floundering in the shallow waters of the bay. Then they sent out the word that it was an unknown monster of the sea, and that they had killed it.

The director of the Natural Museum of the University of San Marcos and the official taxidermist made a trip to Lurin for the purpose of studying and classifying the strange visitor. They found an animal with the body of a whale and the head and extremities resembling those of a turtle. After examination they came to the conclusion that it belonged to the family of Balenidae, cetaceans inhabiting the South Pacific waters. It is supposed that it was carried along by the Humboldt current and thrown up on the beach by the tremendous surfs following the tidal waves of the Chilean earthquake.

The specimen will be brought back to Lima for mounting and will be preserved in the university museum.

Rz Cephei Traveling 2,500,000 Miles An Hour

Harvard Finds Speed King Of Heavens—Light Seen At Earth Began Journey About 3,800 Years Ago

By Associated Press
Cambridge, Mass.—Nearly two and a half million miles an hour, or 1100 kilometers a second, is the speed record set by the star Rz Cephei which, according to a bulletin issued by the Harvard college observatory, has been found by Harvard astronomers to be moving through space with a greater velocity than that of any other star whose speed has been determined.

This star, a variable star of the so-called cluster type, has long been known to astronomers, but its velocity was never measured until recently. It is far too faint to be seen with the naked eye, being of the tenth magnitude. It is in the constellation Cepheus, and is 3,800 light years distant from the earth, which means that the light from it which astronomers now see through their telescopes started on its journey to the earth in the time of the shepherd kings of Egypt, nearly 3,800 years before Christ. That distance is only a small fraction of the distance from the earth to some of the more distant star clusters, but the outstanding fact about Rz Cephei is that its velocity as it flies through space is the greatest yet known for a star.

The speed of the star was measured at the Harvard observatory by a complicated process of observations and computations, including among other things the comparison of photographs recently taken at Harvard with others taken 31 years ago, when the Observatory was just beginning its task of preserving a photographic history of the entire sky. Since that time a "sky patrol" has been kept without interruption at Cambridge, supplemented by photographs taken at the station at Arequipa, Peru, and the history of the stars down to the eleventh magnitude has been written by the stars themselves on over a quarter of a million photographic plates weighing in all one hundred and forty tons.

Most of the discoveries made by Harvard astronomers, it is said at Cambridge, are not made by looking through a telescope at night, as is popularly supposed, but by doing what was done in the case of this discovery of the speed of Rz Cephei, by studying and measuring by day, in the laboratory, photographs taken at night, and by computing the significance of the changes in the brilliance or position or spectra of the stars as recorded on these plates.

The discovery of the immense speed of Rz Cephei is said to be an important to astronomers as suggesting that this type of variable star escapes from the globular clusters, a hypothesis suggested also by other recent observations.

Flipping With Bobsleigh Is Popular Sport

A sport that is becoming popular, but which perhaps brings cusswords from automobilists and the owners of their cars, is that of bobsleigh riding behind an automobile.

Several such parties were seen Sunday in the city and on country highways. Large coasting sleds are fastened behind automobiles and fast rides are enjoyed by half a dozen or more people who occupy the sleigh.

Drivers of passing cars comment on the possibility of the sleigh occupants being injured, because the bob is in tow. Should a turn be made it is said the sleigh might be endangered.

PETTIBONE'S FIFTIETH RUMMAGE SALE CREATED USUAL RUSH TODAY

APPAREL PRICES OFFER BARGAIN-HUNTERS SURPRISE

Radical Suit Reductions—Special Skirt Values and Unusual Fur Prices Attract Buyers.

As in every past year, the crowds at the opening hour this morning and throughout the day made their way to the second floor for the first purchases of their shopping trip. The apparel section has long been the outstanding feature of Rummage Sales because of the enormous reductions offered. This week is no exception to the established practice.

SUIT REDUCTIONS
The phenomenally low prices on the stock of suits created a stir the moment one hurrying shopper first exclaimed over them. A $42, checked tweed suit for $12, $55, expense sport suits at $12.50, $35, tweed suits at $15, brought instant attention.

More dressy suits that were sharply reduced included a three-piece model at $25, that was formerly $65. An $87.50 suit at $35, a $75, suit of checked wool velvet at $35, and a $75, suit of beige. Fur at $24.75 were prominent. Other suit offerings included a $75 peacock blue suit with nutria collar at $18.50; a $135, suit with beaver collar at $45; and $55, wool velvet suits at $12.50.

RAIN COATS
An unexpected offering of raincoats was well received. The reductions brought women's $18.50 coats at $5.25; $15, coats at $7.50, $14, coats at $7. Children's raincoats that were $9 are $4.50; $7.50 coats at $3.75, $5, coats at $2.50. One women's $16.50 coat went this morning to a surprised customer at only $2.95.

SPECIALLY PRICED FURS
One lot of furs exhibited unusual price tags. Two $45, sets of neckpiece and muff are marked at $9.50 each. A $27, raccoon muff is $3.75. A fine black fox muff bears the reduction tag of $7.50—it was formerly $7.50.

SKIRTS
On the skirt rack this morning were such items as a $19.50, faille skirt at $3.95, $10, tweed skirts are reduced to $6.75.

ART MODELS AT 1/3 AND 1/2 OFF

Women shoppers, who are attracted by low prices, bought liberally in the Rummage Sale of finished embroidery models held in the art department.

These models are beautifully hand embroidered—and are sold only because they are discontinued numbers in the stocks of the department. One may still pick up a pillow, scarf, apron, children's wear, and dainty pieces of lingerie at reductions of a third or a half.

Large quantities of stamped materials are marked at Rummage reductions that average a third less than normal prices. This merchandise is all fresh and clean. Included are luncheon sets, pillow cases, towels, scarfs, lunch cloths, napkins, buffet sets and apparel for infants and children. This department will continue to be a prominent bargain center throughout Rummage week.

SHOE SECTION TO BE SOLD OUT THIS WEEK

Clearance Prices in the Downstairs Shoe Section Mark Its Final Closing.

Customers who attended the Winter Rummage Sale of last January will remember how drastically the prices on silverware were cut to sell out that department. Of course such an event should have the first attention of every serious shopper.

This year another department of the Store has been discontinued—the Basement Shoe section. Prices have been placed on every item of the stock that are expected to quickly move the entire assortment.

Among the astonishing clearance prices on shoes in the Basement are $7, women's shoes at $4.95. The entire stock of boys' shoes is marked at $2.65 a pair—although these shoes have sold regularly as high as $5, $6, youth's high top calf shoes are $3.25.

Growing girls' shoes are reduced from $6, to $2.95. Women's $4 comfort shoes, with plain toes and low heels, are reduced to $2.65. Women's $4.50 strap oxfords are $2.65.

A large lot of children's shoes, in sizes up to two, are reduced from $4 to $2.35. $1.95 children's lace or button shoes are reduced to 97c. One lot of women's comfy slippers is priced at 89c a pair.

At the close of the Rummage Sale this department will be entirely discontinued and all shoes will be concentrated in the first floor shoe section. Plans are being made to transform the space occupied by this department into a very attractive children's apparel section.

Arctics at $2.45 and $3.15 Are Attractions

The best grade arctics—all first quality, are typical Rummage Sale bargains at these two extremely low prices. The offering is especially timely and has attracted women shoppers throughout the day.

The $2.45 and $3.15 arctics are on sale in the first floor shoe section. Other offerings of this department include $8.50 women's oxfords at $4.95; and $15, dress pumps of satin, or plain or patent leathers at $4.85. Broken sizes in $12, pumps are offered at $1.95.

The Rummage Prices in this section have taken the place of the usual Mid-Winter Shoe Sale, which will not be held this year.

SILK SALE IS ATTENTION SPOT

Customers at the silk counters have been asking for a silk sale for the past six weeks. The extraordinary effort put into the Rummage Silk event was the result of this demand. Miss Marotte made a special trip to Chicago last week to secure these inviting offerings. The condition of the silk market there made the bargain opportunity which has been so long delayed. The prices offered today reflect the success of Miss Marotte's trip.

One of the most popular fabrics of winter, Canton crepe, is offered in a complete color range at only $2.19 a yard. The usual selling price is $3. Canton crepe in a silk and wool weave is to be had at only $1.95 a yard.

A group of very desirable silk fabrics was brought together under the one price of $1.48 a yard. Yard-wide wash satins, satin de chine, colored taffeta, men's silk broadcloth shirts, and black satin duchesse are all included at this price. These materials sell regularly at $2.25 and $2.50 a yard.

A heavy quality crepe de chine attracted great numbers of buyers this morning at the low price of $1.39 a yard. As it comes in a complete range of colors—and a heavy weight, the quality would sell normally at $2.25. Soft black taffeta at $1.19 is considered a very good value by experienced shoppers. The material offered is a quality that usually sells at $2.25 a yard.

REMAINT OFFERINGS

In silks as in other yard good sections, the remnant boxes constituted a strong drawing card for Rummage shoppers. Short usable lengths of choice fabrics fill the remnant as well as the most worn while bargains. Every sort of fabric is offered at very marked reductions.

REDUCTIONS ON FINE DRAPERIES

Customary Reductions Are Offered on Display Models Used in the Drapery Section.

Housewives, who dread curtaining a single window in their house, have come to look forward to the Rummage clearances of the hand-made display models in the drapery section. As these curtains are intended to serve as displays for six months—they are made in the finest possible way, of the best materials. The result is a window drapery that is unusual and new, and also particularly beautiful.

These draperies are made for stand Rummage Sale of last January will remember how drastically the prices on silverware were cut to sell out that department. Of course such an event should have the first attention of every serious shopper.

Moderate Temperature and Open Roads Bring Many Visitors From Surrounding Communities to Throng Store Today.

Today again demonstrated the tremendous attraction power of the Rummage Sale by filling the store to capacity at the opening hour. A short time after the doors opened—the Rummage crowds numbered considerably over five hundred people, and this record was broken time and again during the day.

INCREASED HELP

The spectacular rush was met with a greatly augmented sales force that worked at top speed all day. The usual policy of a noonday luncheon for all employees was followed at Pettibone's today—as in all past opening days of the sale. A hundred and seventy-five people were served in the annex rooms by the caterers at noon. Immediately after eating the salespeople hurried back to their various departments in order to meet the incoming rush of the afternoon.
